Mary Williams Meets Some "Friends" Who Turn Out to Be "Con" Westerners

Two weeks' delay for Miss Williams of West Roxbury, who was married in Rome last week, was caused by her unexpected visit from some "friends." These "friends," who were supposed to be coming to visit her, turned out to be "con" Westerners who had promised to bring her $500. Miss Williams was gyped and had to make it up for herself.

To the Sharpers of Ward 9

In every large city of the country there are groups of people who are known as "the sharers." These people are known for their love of money and their willingness to cheat others out of it. But I have been able to accumulate a fortune through my own means and to live a life of ease and comfort.

I have no need of these "sharers" and I have no intention of being cheated by them. I have made my fortune through my own labors and I intend to keep it.

"Gold Star Mothers" Incidents Will Be Campaign Issue

(6) Letters to the Editor

CITIZENS AND RESIDENTS OF WARD NINE

The time has come for us to think and act for ourselves.
The issue under the local political press seems to be coming very slowly. At least that’s the way it looks. And it’s not as if the political candidates have not been asked to take a position. But the candidates themselves have not been asked what they think. The political candidates have not been asked to take a position. The local political press seems to be coming very slowly.

We wonder what will happen in this low key situation. We doubt that it will be a significant event. And that’s the way it looks. And it’s not as if the political candidates have not been asked to take a position. But the candidates themselves have not been asked what they think. The political candidates have not been asked to take a position. The local political press seems to be coming very slowly.

The seat that is up for grabs by the two Boston newspapers in the Chronicle section is one that has been held by The Boston Globe since its founding in 1846. The Globe’s previous owner, Robert J. Mitchell, died in 1913, and the newspaper has been owned by the family of the late J. P. Morgan, Jr., since then. The Globe is the oldest newspaper in the United States, and it has been in continuous publication since its founding.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON CHRONICLE
POLITICALLY, we support men and measures, NOT PARTY

I want to see the time come when black men will regard themselves as full participants in the benefits and duties of American citizenship; when they will vote for Democratic candidates if they are the best men for the office, and not because they are members of a certain political party.

It is the duty of every citizen to consider the principles of candidates for public office, and not to let mere party labels blind him to the true issues at stake.

The Democratic Party has a good record of fighting for the rights of black people. It has supported civil rights and racial equality, and has worked to improve the lives of all Americans.

On the other hand, the Republican Party has a long history of discriminating against black people. They have supported segregation and discrimination, and have worked to keep black people from exercising their full citizenship rights.

I want to see the time come when black people will not have to choose between their political beliefs and their desire to live in a just and fair society. They should be able to vote for the candidate who best represents their values, regardless of their party affiliation.

We should all work towards a future where race is no longer a factor in who we vote for. Instead, we should focus on the issues that matter to all Americans, and support candidates who will make positive changes for our country.

THE LONDON TIMES

JAMES JAFFAATS came out strong on Wednesday night, the public announcing her father's death. The newspaper was the first to report the news. The Obispo appeared to be in high spirits, waving to the crowd as they passed by. She was seen carrying a bouquet of flowers and a small black bag. She seemed quite contented. News of the death spread quickly, and the Obispo was later seen at the hospital with her family. The Obispo was known for her work in the community and was a beloved figure.
