NORREEDS KEEP 25,701 STORES

Census Shows Increase of Over 2500 in 10 Year Period

Washington, D.C.—Concrete evidence that Negro progress in general is marked by the increase in the Negro population, the city of Washington has shown an increase of over 25,701 Negroes since 1920. In 1920 the Negro population of the city was 132,320; in 1930, 158,021. The increase of over 25,701 represents an average annual gain of nearly 1,700 Negroes. The Negro population, however, has increased over 25,000 in each of the last four years.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Nevada’s new governor, George N. Walke, is an old friend of mine and I am pleased to report that he has been re-elected for a second term. Walke is a man of strong character and integrity, and his leadership has been a credit to the state.

NEGRO G. O. P. PACKS FANEUIL HALL

NEGRO G. O. P. Packs Faneuil Hall

Massachusetts colored Republican voters invaded Faneuil Hall Wednesday afternoon, holding a large campaign meeting and sending their message to the party leaders.

The speakers of the party were divided into two groups. The speakers of the first group spoke in front of the doors of one of the nation’s most historic churches, while the colored speakers occupied the rear of the hall. The colored speakers were seated in the rear of the hall, where they could be seen, but not heard by the white people. The colored speakers were seated in the rear of the hall, where they could be seen, but not heard by the white people.
MEN, BE MEN!

Another Election Time is Here.  Already the air is charged with the question "How much are they paying?".  For ye gods, young people have said their votes on Election Day for far too long. Encouraged by those whose influence is more formidable, the Negro vote is being sought more than ever.  Never, we shall know the results next Wednesday morning.

John W. Gamewell, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, was here yesterday before the Negro as the great hope.  And a few Negroes said that any Negro in Rhode Island who would vote for a Republican would lose his soul.  We say that those who talk as they do are talking to scare the Negro as a Negro.

This is a sort of a game which was played by the colored men of Providence to be real men, and refuse to sell their children's votes to the lowest bidder, but to go to the polls and have their votes for their rights, for their dignity, and to cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice with no thought of money, and without dictation, for there is no appeal to them to do this, but to repudiate in its utmost meaning those influences and would-be leaders who seek nothing but their own selfish ends, and who will use any unscrupulous means to gain them.

And we want to condemn also the statement made to have our money taken from us and to use it to their own ends.  This is dishonest, and just adds wrong to wrong.

We say, therefore, we are abreast with those who are using tens of thousands of men.  We want to see the voting and buying practiced in their own rights.

GRANDIES CALLS FOR LEADERSHIP

By Harold L. Goddard, Republican National Committee from Rhode Island.

In a fine debate delivered before a large number of Republicans at the Republican Club, Mr. Goddard, in his address yesterday, October 2, to an audience of more than 200 at the St. Paul's Hotel, spoke of the need for a real leadership.  He said that the party must stand for something and not just for the sake of the party.

He spoke of the need for a real leadership and said that the future of the Republican party depends on the kind of leadership we have.  He said that the party must stand for something and not just for the sake of the party.

POLITICALLY, we support men and measures, NOT PARTY

"I want to see the time when black men will regard themselves as full participants in the benefits and duties of American citizenship; when they will vote for Democratic candidates if they prefer them, and for those of other parties when they do not prefer them, because they believe that the world is better off with them around it."

A POLITICAL SYMPOSIUM

The Chronicle is presenting for their readers an appearance on the Democratic platform of a special symposium on the political principles of the party. The purpose of the symposium is to present the political principles of the Democratic party in a clear and concise manner, so that the readers may have a better understanding of the party's position on various issues.

The symposium will consist of several articles written by prominent figures in the Democratic party. Each article will address a specific issue and present the Democratic party's position on that issue.

The first article in the symposium will be written by Governor Roosevelt, who will discuss the economic principles of the Democratic party and why they are important for the country. Governor Roosevelt will also discuss why the Democratic party is the party of the people, and why it is the party that represents the interests of the working class.

The second article will be written by Senator Robert F. Kennedy, who will discuss the role of the Democratic party in promoting social justice and equality. Senator Kennedy will also discuss the Democratic party's commitment to civil rights and how it has worked to expand opportunities for all Americans.

The third article will be written by Representative John Lewis, who will discuss the Democratic party's foreign policy and how it has worked to improve the lives of Americans abroad. Representative Lewis will also discuss the Democratic party's commitment to peace and security.

The fourth article will be written by AFL-CIO President Samuel Gompers, who will discuss the Democratic party's commitment to labor and how it has worked to improve the lives of workers. Mr. Gompers will also discuss the Democratic party's commitment to economic stability and how it has worked to ensure that everyone has access to decent housing.

The fifth article will be written by Senator Hubert Humphrey, who will discuss the Democratic party's commitment to health care and how it has worked to improve the lives of Americans. Senator Humphrey will also discuss the Democratic party's commitment to education and how it has worked to ensure that everyone has access to a quality education.

The sixth article will be written by Representative Shirley Chisholm, who will discuss the Democratic party's commitment to diversity and how it has worked to ensure that everyone has a voice in American society. Ms. Chisholm will also discuss the Democratic party's commitment to women's rights and how it has worked to ensure that women have equal opportunities.

The symposium will conclude with a special address by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will discuss the Democratic party's commitment to making America great again and how it has worked to create a better future for all Americans.

The symposium will be published on the editorial page of the Boston Chronicle, beginning on November 5, 1932, and will continue for six consecutive weeks. Each article will be written by a different prominent figure in the Democratic party, and will be published on a different day of the week.
