OPINION SAYS THAT TRIAL JUDGE FAILED TO GIVE COUNSEL TO SCOTTSBORO VICTIMS

HISTORY ASSOCIATION MAKES AWARDS

Washington, D.C.—Dr. Carter G. Woodson, director of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, made the announcement of the prizes which will be awarded to the same number of the Association in Atlanta this fall. The prizes were sponsored by a man as a gift from the Association to students interested in Negro historical research and writing. Each prize is awarded to the author of the one article in the Negro World, the Negro World Literary Magazine, or the book of the number of members of color noted in the

Police Claim Numbers Snapped; Proprietor Fined, Appeals

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A major decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, when the reading of the opinion on the main question of the case was held on the 16th, was a considerable victory for the Negro. Mr. James Napier, who is in charge of the club, was asked to give a report on a heavy fine. Mr. Napier denied that there was any number written on the club sign, and that the club sign was ordered to be removed. The decision was delivered on Thursday, on the 15th, in the case of United States v. United States Supreme Court.

Democratic Landslide a Protest Vote Condemning G. O. P. Policies

By Homer N. Boston

A Democratic landslide swept the nation last Tuesday. It cannot be denied that thousands of colored voters put their ballots for Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic candidate, but it cannot be denied that the Republican vote was exceedingly small. It was the balloting of 1932, which has been described as the most important election in the history of the United States.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN ENDS WITH CUSTODIAL

COMMUNITY FUND TO HAVE 7TH CAMPAIGN

STRAWS

BY Ray Kribbs

The straw hat is the last straw.

The name of Henry Cuddy, but more often "Cookie," was on that straw hat. "Now, if you don't answer the door, you're going to have a real surprise," was his threat. "I'll just remove that hat and chuck it into your front yard."

I didn't need to be reassured by his threat, as the straw hat had been there for two years or more, and I viewed its presence with a certain amount of resignation.

The straw hat is the symbol of my age group, a generation that was bom during the Great Depression and saw the country struggle through the dust bowl and the depression of the 1930s. It is a symbol of resilience and determination, of surviving against all odds.

But the straw hat is also a symbol of the past, a time when the world was simpler and technology was in its infancy. It is a symbol of the days when we had to rely on our own skills and ingenuity to get through the day.

Today, as I look at the straw hat, I am reminded of the struggles of my parents and grandparents, and of the sacrifices they made to ensure a better future for their children.

I am also reminded of the joy and laughter that filled our homes, and of the simple pleasures of life, like sitting on the porch with a cup of coffee and watching the world go by.

But as I remove the straw hat from my front yard, I am left with a sense of sadness, a feeling that the world is changing too quickly, and that the simple pleasures of life are becoming a thing of the past.

Yet, despite the challenges of the future, I know that we will continue to persevere, and that the spirit of resilience and determination that the straw hat symbolizes will continue to guide us through the years to come.

The straw hat is a symbol of the past, but it is also a symbol of the future, and it will always be a reminder of the strength and resilience of the human spirit.

NEGRO ACHIEVEMENT WEEK

Gordon M. Poitier is celebrating this week the Negro Achievements Week during which he pays homage to the contributions of our country's portion to the history and the culture of this great nation. The Negro is one of our country's most cherished and one of the most valuable assets of our society.

In order to further the cause of Negro achievements and to recognize the contributions of our people, a Negro Achievements Week is being celebrated in the United States. The purpose of the week is to promote the ideals and values of the Negro people and to encourage the participation of all people in this great undertaking.

The week is being observed with a series of lectures, workshops, and other activities that are designed to promote the understanding of the Negro people and their contributions to society. FOOTBALL ON NEGRO GRIDIRON

Va. State Yet Undefeated; Ha1'70's 70-Point Easy Record

Back in 1930, California's passing ace, Harold Maier, scored a 67-point game in a battle against Stanford and was lauded California to defeat Ohio State. This record hasn't been matched for almost a decade, and it's not likely to be topped this year. The offense in both games was so fast and furious that the game was called on account of weather. In this game, the score was recorded as 67-0, and the teams played through nearly three quarters of the game before the officials finally called the contest.

But the game was a classic, and the performances of both teams were outstanding. The game was played in front of a packed house, and the excitement was palpable. The crowd was on its feet throughout the game, cheering and shouting for more.

The game was a real thriller, with both teams playing with heart and soul. The Orange and Blue team controlled the game for most of the first half, but the Gray and White team fought back and took the lead in the second half. The game was tied at 34-34 at the end of the third quarter, and the crowd was on the edge of its seats.

The fourth quarter was the highlight of the game, with both teams playing with a sense of urgency. The Orange and Blue team scored once more, but the Gray and White team responded with a touchdown to tie the game again.

The game ended in a 34-34 tie, and the crowd was left breathless. It was a game that will be remembered for years to come, and it was a true testament to the passion and dedication of the players.

MORGAN BEATS HOWARD 13-6

Conrad Runs 70 Yds; Scores 2

Howard, D.C. — After staging a second-quarter rally to lose 14-13 to Tennessee-Martin in their second game of the season, the baseball team of Howard University has been out of action for a week and is now ready to play.

Howard University played Morgan State College today, and scored two touchdowns in the second period to win the game 13-6. The first touchdown was scored by Conrad, who ran 70 yards for the score. The second touchdown was scored by a player who was not named.

The Howard defense was strong, and the Morgan State offense was held in check. The game was played in front of a small crowd, and the atmosphere was electric.
