POLITICALLY, we support men and measures, NOT PARTY

To see the time come when black men will regard themselves as full participants in the benefits and duties of American citizenship; when they will vote for Democratic candidates if they prefer the Democratic policy on tariff or taxation, or foreign relations or what not; and when they will vote the Republican ticket only for like reasons is progress.

FOOTBALL ON NEGRO GRIDIRON

William O. Nunn, the veteran Grandstand reporter, writing from Seattle, where he was attending the game, said that one of the Negro gridiron teams was they featured in the manuscript last season. He also included several interesting anecdotes and reflections on the game.

Nunn's list included Negro gridiron teams that boasted from the East to West, and featured a variety of tactics that were unique to the sport. Among these mentioned was Bill Lewis, the largest and most successful Negro gridiron team in the country. Bill Lewis, however, realized that they are facing a national trend, with the number of teams increasing each year.

But it was the Western teams of Negro stars that failed to gain a share of praise that was as conspicuous as we presented Mr. Nunn's column. For with the assistance of Mr. E. Leimle Meck, a native son of the region, we are able to dig up a few facts about the Negro gridiron teams in the country. Mr. Meck is a native of Boston, the home of the famous team, and has been keeping the books of the team for many years.

Despite their success, the Western teams of Negro stars are still relatively unknown outside of their own community. The lack of exposure in the media has hindered their growth, but the potential for the sport is immense. With the right amount of promotion and support, the Negro gridiron teams could become a force to be reckoned with in the world of sports.

Whereas the press coverage is limited, the fans of these teams are enthusiastic and passionate. They travel long distances to watch their teams play, and are willing to sacrifice time and money to support their local teams.

As the article progresses, the author reflects on the history of the sport and its evolution. The Negro gridiron teams have come a long way since their inception, and have played a significant role in the history of sports.

As the article comes to a close, the author expresses hope for the future of the sport. He believes that with proper support and resources, the Negro gridiron teams can continue to grow and thrive.

PANTHERS WIN ANOTHER

STEAM ROILER SEASON ENDS WITH 25-0 WIN

The Providence Steam Roller, as the home team, played a hard-fought game of the season at the West End Athletic Club. The team had been undefeated throughout the season, and were looking to maintain their winning streak.

In the first half, the Providence team dominated the game, with the Steam Roller holding their own. The score was tied at 12-12 at halftime, with both teams displaying a strong defensive game. The second half, however, saw the Steam Roller pulling away, scoring two touchdowns and holding off any serious attempts by the Providence team.

The final score was 25-0, with the Steam Roller emerging victorious. The team's victory was seen as a significant achievement, given their strong performance throughout the season.

AFTERWORD

The night was full of excitement, with a large crowd gathered to witness the game. The atmosphere was electric, with cheers andcries of encouragement filling the stadium.

As the game came to a close, the players shook hands, exchanging words of encouragement and support. The atmosphere was one of camaraderie and teamwork, with both teams showing respect for each other.

The next article discusses the impact of the game on the players and the broader community. It highlights the importance of sports in bringing people together, and the role they play in promoting values such as teamwork, discipline, and fair play.

The article concludes by thanking the readers for their support and enthusiasm, and looking forward to the next game, promising another exciting match. The tone is one of excitement and optimism, with a sense of anticipation for what lies ahead.

ATTENTION! READERS and ADVERTISERS

Whatever it is, it is up to you to let the public know what you have to offer. Here are two important things you should know:

1. The Newspaper advertisement has contributed largely to the development and success of every kind of legitimate business.

2. The well balanced card or circular or pamphlet has been proven to be one of the most effective salesmen that any business could adopt. It gains admittance into places where the most intrepid two-footed representative fears to tread.
