Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal

Recommended Citation

https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal/727

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Student Newspapers at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk Journal by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.
New registration procedures to be reviewed this week

In John Brachi

A plan to institute new registration procedures at the Massachusetts Board of Registration and Inspection has been introduced by the Board's chairman, Alf M. Duchuk, and has been accepted by the Board's executive committee.

According to the plan, the current system would be replaced by a pre-registration system that would allow applicants to register their names and addresses electronically. The plan would be implemented on a trial basis and would be reviewed periodically.

In an interview, Duchuk said that the new system would be more efficient and would reduce the amount of paperwork required. He added that the new system would also be more secure, as it would prevent fraudulent applications.

Pre-registration test marked

In John Brachi

A test run of the new registration system was conducted last week at the Board's offices in Boston. The test was successful and the Board plans to implement the new system on a larger scale.

The new system will allow applicants to register online, which will save time and reduce the number of people who need to visit the Board's offices. The Board also plans to use the new system to track the status of applications and to provide real-time updates to applicants.

Dukakis says "people lose" in Mass. court system

In John Brachi

Governor Michael Dukakis spoke out against the Massachusetts court system, which he said is "broken." He praised the state's legal system but said that the court system needs to be overhauled.

Dukakis cited the long delays in court proceedings as a major problem. He said that the court system is "too slow" and that it is "too expensive." He added that the court system needs to be more efficient and that it should be reorganized to better serve the public.

Dukakis also said that the court system is "too expensive." He praised the state's legal aid programs but said that they are not enough to ensure that all people have access to justice.

In This Issue

French Professor Catherine Fehrer to retire after 29 years of kindness and grace at Suffolk page 6

An expose on the private lives of the people who bring you the news each week page 9

Journal photo essay on people and places surrounding our school page 11

Looking back on 41 years with the Suffolk Journal page 16 leaders don't make an organization

The Suffolk Journal, founded in 1958, is one of the oldest student newspapers in the country. Its mission is to promote free speech and provide a platform for students to voice their opinions. The paper is produced by students and funded by the Student Government Association.

Letters

Dwight

During last week's meeting, the Suffolk Journal, which is a student publication, was held at the Thompson Center. The Journal is a valuable resource for students and faculty, providing news, features, and opinions on various topics.

Recognition Day Awards

The Suffolk Journal is proud to announce the winners of the Recognition Day Awards. These awards recognize outstanding contributions to the Suffolk community and are presented to students, faculty, and staff who have made significant contributions to the university.

The winners of the Recognition Day Awards are:

- Students:
  - Josephine Rodriguez
  - Emily Chen
  - Samantha Lee

- Faculty:
  - Dr. John Smith
  - Dr. Emily Chen
  - Dr. Samantha Lee

- Staff:
  - Leslie Rodriguez
  - Emily Chen
  - Samantha Lee

The Suffolk Journal would like to congratulate all of the winners and thank them for their contributions to the Suffolk community.

The Suffolk Journal is a publication of Suffolk University. It is produced by students and funded by the Student Government Association.
Will compete in D.C. national competition

Students finish first in AAF regional

In this week's edition of the student newspaper, a story was published about a competition that took place in D.C. Students from the Advertising Federation of America (AAF) New England chapter participated in the national competition held at Rhode Island School of Design. The story talked about a student who competed in the competition and won first place.

SGA President-elect Bartley looks at next year

The new SGA President-elect, Bartley, is looking forward to the next year. He is planning to focus on improving campus life and addressing student concerns. The story mentioned that Bartley is working on strategies to increase student engagement and promote a positive campus environment.

State financial aid seems headed for long summer

The state government is considering allocating funds for state financial aid programs. The story mentioned that the state government is in the process of finalizing the budget for the upcoming fiscal year and that financial aid programs are expected to receive a significant amount of funding.

Primo's Italia Sub Shop

Primo's Italia Sub Shop is located at 742-5458, 28 Myrtle St., Beacon Hill, BOSTON. All orders are prepared to take-out. The phone number is 742-5458. The shop is open from 10am-11pm on Mon. Tues., Wed. Thurs., Fri. Sat. Specializing in quality food.

continued in next issue
Fantasy journal unveiled, top publishers show interest

In a show of interest, top publishers have taken notice of the "Fantasy Journal," a new addition to the world of publishing. The journal, unveiled recently, promises to tap into the growing interest in fantasy stories and genres.

The "Fantasy Journal" is said to contain a collection of stories, art, and other fantasy-related content, similar to other literary publications. However, its focus on showing interest in fantasy is what sets it apart from traditional publications.

At the recent launch event, many publishing companies have expressed interest in publishing "Fantasy Journal." The event was attended by prominent figures from various publishing houses, who pitched in to support the launch.

The publication is now being sent to prominent authors, editors, and other professionals for feedback. The "Fantasy Journal" hopes to attract readers and authors of fantasy genre and represents a new platform for these creators to shine.

Editors, station managers chosen

The publication’s success is further boosted by the choice of editors and station managers, who are expert in fantasy fiction and its sub-genres. These professionals have been selected for their knowledge and experience in the field.

The editors have been chosen based on their experience, expertise, and ability to work with a team of writers to create engaging content. Station managers, on the other hand, are chosen for their ability to manage and coordinate the workflow of the publication.

Editors have been chosen based on their experience, expertise, and ability to work with a team of writers to create engaging content. Station managers, on the other hand, are chosen for their ability to manage and coordinate the workflow of the publication.

McSweeney, Herald sports editor, goes to bat for "Comm. Week"

The Herald’s sports editor, McSweeney, has come forward to support the "Comm. Week" event. He has been vocal in his support for the event, stating that it is an essential part of the community.

"Comm. Week" is an annual event that celebrates community service and engagement. The Herald’s sports editor has been a vocal supporter of the event, stating that it is an important part of the community.

The event will be held on Sunday, May 8th at 10 a.m. at the North Andover High School. The Herald’s sports editor has been invited to speak at the event, stating that it is an important part of the community.

The event will be held on Sunday, May 8th at 10 a.m. at the North Andover High School. The Herald’s sports editor has been invited to speak at the event, stating that it is an important part of the community.

Dying for Journal staff

The Journal’s staff is currently in mourning as they struggle to cope with the loss of one of their beloved colleagues.

The Journal is a well-respected publication in the field of fantasy fiction, and the loss of a member of the team is felt deeply by all. The staff is currently working to ensure that the publication continues to thrive in the wake of this loss.
Delta Sigma Pi president finalist for national award

By Susan Read

A Suffolk accounting major has been selected as a finalist in the National Organization of Delta Sigma Pi, whose mission is to encourage and reward professional excellence in business and management.

Keri R. Norwich, a junior from Chelsea, Massachusetts, is one of 45 members of the national professional business fraternity to be named as a finalist.

Norwich, who intends to pursue a career in accounting, said that Delta Sigma Pi is dedicated to the advancement of the professional business student. She said that the organization is also dedicated to the advancement of the professional business student's career.

Delta Sigma Pi is a national honorary professional business fraternity for undergraduate business and management students. The organization was founded in 1914 at the University of Maryland and now has over 300 chapters worldwide.

Let us all at Suffolk JUBILATE at the end of classes and celebrate our 7th annual SPRING FEST next Friday, May 13 at 8 pm in the Auditorium with a Student Talent Contest followed by a Cold Duck Reception for all.

See you there!

The SU SpringFest Committee
Adieu, Dr. Fehrer... we will miss you

Mr. Xavier Fehrer

Fehrer was a resident of France who was also a valued instructor in French language and culture. He was a respected member of the French community and was widely admired for his teaching skills and dedication to the field.

Despite his success, Fehrer was not without controversy. He was often criticized for his strict teaching methods and his rigid approach to language learning. However, many students and colleagues held him in high regard and respected his contributions to the field.

Fehrer's influence extended beyond his teaching. He was known for his generosity and was a frequent donor to various cultural and educational organizations. His legacy will continue to be felt for years to come.

Dr. Fehrer's retirement was celebrated with a special ceremony at the university. The event was attended by colleagues, students, and friends who came together to honor his contributions to the field.

Dr. Fehrer's departure marks the end of an era. He will be missed by many, but his legacy will live on through the many students who were fortunate enough to study under his guidance. His influence will continue to be felt for years to come.
from the hill

fare well

By Johanna Roberts

There's a new atmosphere in Westport, Conn., which is the old village where you've always had a hard time finding a parking spot. There's a new atmosphere in Westport, but it's not all that it seems. There's a new atmosphere because a certain number of people have moved in, and the old atmosphere has moved out. There's a new atmosphere in Westport because it's the new town.

Swimmer's Song

I have picked up heaps of new volumes to read at night. I have picked them up when the round moon hangs in the sky. I have picked up heaps of new volumes to read at night. I have picked them up when the round moon hangs in the sky.

Does college help career?

In a survey by Frank Patten, director of a research firm in Westport, Conn., the author of the article, found that the number of students who complete college programs and go on to graduate school is lower than the number of students who complete college programs and go on to graduate school. The survey included a sample of 500 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.

The survey also showed that the choice of college helped students to secure higher-paying jobs, but that college did not improve career prospects. The survey included a sample of 1,000 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.

The survey also showed that the choice of college helped students to secure higher-paying jobs, but that college did not improve career prospects. The survey included a sample of 1,000 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.

The survey also showed that the choice of college helped students to secure higher-paying jobs, but that college did not improve career prospects. The survey included a sample of 1,000 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.

The survey also showed that the choice of college helped students to secure higher-paying jobs, but that college did not improve career prospects. The survey included a sample of 1,000 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.

The survey also showed that the choice of college helped students to secure higher-paying jobs, but that college did not improve career prospects. The survey included a sample of 1,000 students from each university, and 30 percent of the students who completed the survey said they had no intention of going to graduate school.
Finally ... a safe way to end wars

by W. P. Taylor

For five years the world has been at war. It has cost billions, claimed millions of lives, and has left the world in a state of uncertainty and fear. The leaders of various nations have tried to prevent war, but their efforts have not been successful. The question of how to prevent war has been a topic of discussion for many years.

Recently, a group of scientists and experts gathered in a conference to discuss the possibility of a safe way to end war. They concluded that the key to ending war lies in the development of a new technology that can prevent nations from going to war.

The new technology, called the "Peace Shield," is a device that can be placed on the border between two nations. It is designed to prevent military conflict by providing a physical barrier that is impossible to bypass.

The Peace Shield is activated by a computer system that is programmed to detect any movements that could indicate a potential conflict. When the computer detects a threat, it immediately activate the Peace Shield, which creates a force field that stops any military action.

The Peace Shield is currently being tested in several countries and has been successful in preventing several conflicts. The experts believe that with further development, the Peace Shield could become a viable solution to the problem of war.

The experts also believe that the Peace Shield could be used as a deterrent to prevent nations from starting wars in the first place. By preventing war from occurring, the Peace Shield could help to create a more peaceful world.

The experts are now working on bringing the Peace Shield to market and hope to see it in use within the next few years. They believe that the Peace Shield could be a significant step towards ending war once and for all.
from the hill

A look at the weirdos who bring you the Journal

By John CSC

John CSC is the essence of the Journal's transportation love of life. With him, Todd is well-known and respected in the local scene for his dry sense of humor and his uncanny ability to capture a person like a Fedex. He is one of the few who can identify someone in the crowd without even seeing them. He's the one who will break up John's walks to school.

John CSC is also the author of the popular column, "Murica, anybody can have a country". In this column, he takes a lighthearted look at the quirks of American culture and how it's become a global phenomenon. He's known for his unique perspective and his ability to make even the most mundane topics interesting.

John CSC is a regular fixture at the Journal's weekly meetings, where he brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table. He's a true pioneer in the field of transportation, and his contributions to the Journal have been invaluable.

"John CSC is a true pioneer in the field of transportation, and his contributions to the Journal have been invaluable," said John CSC, "I'm honored to be a part of such a great team."
Beacon Hill: faces and flavors

Located in the middle of white-shingled buildings, Beacon Hill is bounded by Charles Street and the Back Bay. This is where old matrons, successful young professionals, and the less-than-elegant live. The northern slope is particularly charming, with its narrow streets and picturesque houses.
Historic facades

It is Boston's best-known university, shares the area with the State House with rich professionals, and inhabiting housing houses on the [Image of the State House and a crowded street scene]

Beacon Hill: faces and facades

Located in the middle of what is Boston's best-known neighborhood, Suffolk University shares the area bounded by Charles Street and the State House with rich old matrons, successful young professionals, and inhabitants of the less-than-elegant rooming houses on the northern slope.
Woody Allen changes style; less comic — more truthful

In "Live (More or Less): Thompson's timelessness"

In "Live (More or Less): Thompson's timelessness"
Between the Lines: a peek at life's little curiosities

Between the Lines

By Assiter Torres

This is the story of the past four or five years. It begins from the moment Sean Thompson appeared on the scene. He was a fresh-faced young man, but his eyes were already world-weary. His hair was unkempt, and his clothes were tattered. He walked with a purpose, as if he were on a mission. As he passed by, he seemed to catch the attention of everyone he met. They were drawn to his aura. He was a force to be reckoned with, a man of the people. His words were wise and his actions were strong. He was a man who knew what he wanted and was determined to get it. And he got it.

Thompson was a master of the adage, "No news is good news." He never sought attention or praise, but when it was given to him, he accepted it with grace and humility. He was a man who knew the value of hard work and dedication. And he never let anyone forget it.

He was a man of many talents, and his artistry was evident in everything he did. Whether it was painting, writing, or music, he excelled. His passion for life was infectious, and he inspired those around him to follow their dreams.

And so, the story of Thompson's life continues. He is a man who has touched the lives of many, and his legacy will live on for generations to come.

May 8, 1977 - The Suffolk Journal / Page 13

Thompson and his four-year-old son, Sean Jr., take a walk in the woods near Thompson's home.

Dukakis continues from page 10

Oberon Hall continues from page 10

The whole mood of the film is one of confusion. In a party scene, a man soaks up the noise of the music. Scenes of a busy bar, with people dancing and drinking in a haze of smoke and dust. The tailored suit and hat are worn by the heavy presence of South America.

And that's it. Because the Lines is a story of personal insight, it is an escape from the pressures of the place to take over the place and the people. It is a story of confusion and the fear of the unknown. It is a story of hope and the promise of a better tomorrow. It is a story of Thompson's life, told through his eyes.
Devaney grabs first win; Rams whack Nichols, 14-8

by Tony Frangis

Vince Walsh, you got your first baseball, work in backspins, and Suffolk pitcher Jim Better is the man behind your most recent home run. "You know, you are right," replied Rams' star Tom Walsh in his usual style. "That's what happened in our last game. Bill's the man we want to see behind the plate. He's got that good feel." Whatever it was, Walsh's unique style of work, something special (perhaps) for the Suffolk baseball team.

Poor conditions, errors, Lowell combine to beat tennis team again

by Jon Ullberg

In the second game, the second time in a row, Lowell made the same mistakes again. Poor conditions, errors, and Lowell combine to beat tennis team again.

Suffolk at Nichols

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Suffolk</th>
<th>14-8</th>
<th>Nichols</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Bill McCarthy lost to Kevin Clark, 3-0, 4-6.
- Matt McCarthy lost to William Blakely, 6-0, 6-0.
- John Rawlinson lost to John Rawlinson, 6-0, 6-0.
- Mike Johnson lost to Mike Johnson, 6-0, 6-0.

- Devaney grabbed his first win; Rams whack Nichols, 14-8.
- Poor conditions, errors, Lowell combine to beat tennis team again.
- Suffolk at Nichols.
He came to play

Jay Caron: Rams' Mr. Hustle

In St. Louis

The ball came and he became a man. The lines, the game, the looking, the momentum, the pressure, the outcome. It was work for him, not a choice. It was game, not play. It was movement, not stillness. It was a moment, not a time. It was the ball, not another ball. It was the crowd, not another crowd. It was the outcome, not another outcome.

The ball came, and he became a man, not a choice. It was work, not play. It was momentum, not stillness. It was a moment, not a time. It was the ball, not another ball. It was the crowd, not another crowd. It was the outcome, not another outcome.

After making the shot, he fell back. He was tired, not happy. He was hurt, not sacred. He was finish, not start. It was over, not just over. It was end, not another end. It was the ball, not another ball. It was the crowd, not another crowd. It was the outcome, not another outcome.

Jay Caron's hustle helped the Rams in their game against the Vikings. He had a great game, and helped them to a victory. He was a great player, and his hustle helped them to win. He was a great player, and his hustle helped them to win.

NFL draft highlights

No. 2 pick: Defensive end Tom Frazier, Boston College, 6'4" 255 lb. Frazier is a solid defensive end who can provide a strong pass rush. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 3 pick: Tight end John Allen, Miami, 6'4" 260 lb. Allen is a versatile tight end who can play both tight end and fullback. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 4 pick: Wide receiver Paul Carter, Texas, 6'4" 210 lb. Carter is a fast wide receiver who can stretch the field and make big plays. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 5 pick: Running back John Smith, Michigan, 6'0" 220 lb. Smith is a strong running back who can carry the ball and make big plays. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 6 pick: Linebacker Tim Brown, UCLA, 6'0" 220 lb. Brown is a versatile linebacker who can play both inside and outside. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 7 pick: Cornerback Bill Johnson, Georgia, 5'11" 190 lb. Johnson is a strong cornerback who can cover both wide receivers and tight ends. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 8 pick: Offensive tackle John Williams, Notre Dame, 6'6" 310 lb. Williams is a strong offensive tackle who can block both ends and tackles. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 9 pick: Guard Bob Anderson, Penn State, 6'5" 300 lb. Anderson is a strong guard who can block both inside and outside. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.

No. 10 pick: Center Mark Johnson, Kentucky, 6'0" 270 lb. Johnson is a strong center who can block both inside and outside. He is a strong player, and his hustle helped him to be drafted.
Looking back on 41 years at Suffolk ... and the Journal was there

The Suffolk Journal

New registration procedures to be reviewed this week

In this issue

Pre-registration test mastered

Library installs book detector

In the Suffolk Journal

Page 1

Page 2

Page 3

Page 4

Page 5

Page 6

Page 7

Page 8

Page 9

Page 10

Page 11

Page 12

Page 13

Page 14

Page 15

Page 16

Page 17

Page 18

Page 19

Page 20

Page 21

Page 22

Page 23

Page 24

Page 25

Page 26

Page 27

Page 28

Page 29

Page 30

Page 31

Page 32

Page 33

Page 34

Page 35

Page 36

Page 37

Page 38

Page 39

Page 40

Page 41

Page 42

Page 43

Page 44

Page 45

Page 46

Page 47

Page 48

Page 49

Page 50
Dear Breth,

I am a freshman at Suffolk University and have been considering the possibility of participating in the Honors Program. I am interested in the Honors Program as it offers a more challenging and rigorous academic experience. However, I am unsure about the requirements and benefits of the program. Could you provide some information on the Honors Program at Suffolk University, including any prerequisites and the benefits of being part of the program?

Sincerely,
[Name]

---

Dear Breth,

I am wondering if there is a specific Honors Program at Suffolk University that I should consider. I have heard about the Honors Program from my advisor, but I am not sure if it is the right fit for me. Could you provide more information on the Honors Program at Suffolk University, including any specific courses or requirements?

Sincerely,
[Name]

---

Dear Skipper,

I am writing to ask for your help in resolving a problem I have been facing. I am enrolled in an upper-level course and have been struggling with the material. I am not sure if I am understanding the concepts correctly or if there are any additional resources available to me. I would greatly appreciate it if you could provide some guidance on how to approach the problem and any additional resources that may be available.

Sincerely,
[Name]

---

Dear Breth,

I am a junior at Suffolk University and am interested in joining the Honors Program. I have heard positive feedback from my peers regarding the program and believe it would be a valuable addition to my academic experience. Could you provide more information on the Honors Program at Suffolk University, including any specific courses or requirements?

Sincerely,
[Name]
$250 more

Tuition hiked

by Debbie Burke

and Dick Neu

The SGA Student Activities Fee added an extra $250 for all college fees.

The Student Government Association (SGA) has approved $250 fee for all college fees. The $250 fee is to be used to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses.

The increase in the student activities fee is due to the rising cost of living. The President of the SGA, John V. Collins, said that the increase is needed to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.

Activities Fee Approved

Students Pack Forum To Vote "Yes" On Limited $5 Fee; Air Complaints

By Debbie Burke

Students packed the forum to vote "Yes" on the limited $5 fee. The fee is to be used to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.

The SGA Student Activities Fee added an extra $250 for all college fees. The $250 fee is to be used to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The President of the SGA, John V. Collins, said that the increase is needed to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.

The increase in the student activities fee is due to the rising cost of living. The President of the SGA, John V. Collins, said that the increase is needed to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.

NOTICE

Student Government Association is considering making Student Activities Fee increased to $50 in an effort to increase programming and student communication.

I am in favor of the increase.

I am not in favor of the increase.

Drop off in any of the SGA complaint boxes.

MARCH 1963

52 University Tuition Increased To $400

RAISE IS NEEDED TO MEET COSTS

Note: As a last resort, the President added that the health and safety fees would be doubled, as a result of the new increase in tuition.

The increase in tuition is to be used to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.

The increase in the student activities fee is due to the rising cost of living. The President of the SGA, John V. Collins, said that the increase is needed to cover the costs of the year's travel expenses. The SGA is responsible for funding the activities fee.
The course has always aimed to make students feel safe. Even during times of the year when attendance is sometimes poor.

The Canada wet. Y'Keel Ale.

ABC CHESTERFIELD

'Widows come with us, and Chesterfields are better - much better.'

Jane Wyman.

She asks to go through harmless changes. Remember she's not changing - now we get family values. The answer can start tomorrow.

Suffolk Journal
Any student interested in holding an editorial office for The Suffolk Journal for 1977-78 is asked to attend a brief meeting Tuesday, May 10th at 1 p.m. in RL-19