Placement Director Woods will retire after 12 years

By B. Goreva

Suffolk’s Placement Director, Jack W. Woods, has announced his retirement effective April 13, 2019 after 12 years of service. Woods has been the Placement Director for the past 12 years and has been a faculty member of the Business Administration and Economics Department for over 30 years. He began his career at Suffolk in 1987 as an instructor in the Accounting Department.

According to Woods, the most significant change in his role during his tenure as Placement Director has been the growth of the Business Administration and Economics departments. The department has grown from 200 students in 1990 to over 1,000 students today. Woods has been involved in the development of new courses and programs, as well as the expansion of existing programs. He has also been instrumental in building relationships with local employers, which has led to increased job opportunities for students.

Woods has been married for 40 years and has been active in community service. He has served on the Suffolk County Board of Education and has been a volunteer for local charities. He has also been an active member of the Suffolk County Bar Association and the Suffolk County Chamber of Commerce.

The Placement Office, located in the Business Administration and Economics Building, is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Students can access information about job opportunities and career services by visiting the website or by contacting the Placement Office directly.

The disco craze... spinners of the vinyl

SU's Bonve: nocturnal DJ

by Richard Bowe

When Bonve took it easy, there he was, a pair of headphones around his neck and a turntable at his side, as the students were dancing and singing along to the music. The music was the soul of the disco craze, and the DJ's job was to spin the vinyl and create the atmosphere.

Bonve, who is known for his smooth and soulful style, has been recognized as one of the best DJ's on campus. His music choices are always on point, and he has a loyal following of students who come to his parties.

Bonve's passion for music started at a young age. He grew up surrounded by music, and he learned to play the drums and guitar at a young age. He later discovered his love for DJing and started spinning at local bars and clubs.

Bonve's unique style has also made him a favorite among the students. He is known for his ability to read the crowd and play music that keeps everyone dancing.

Bonve's DJ career has taken him to many events and clubs, and he has also had the opportunity to work with many well-known artists. He is currently working on a new album and plans to release it later this year.

Bonve's success as a DJ is not just about his music skills. He is also known for his positive attitude and his ability to make everyone feel welcome.

Bonve's music style is a blend of old and new, and he always manages to keep everyone happy with his music choices. He is a true disco spinner, and he knows how to get the crowd going.

Turning out for a late St. Patrick's Day

Erin go bragh: Irish, many go wild

By Nicole Roper

International students; students from other countries; and students from both abroad and local also turned out for a late St. Patrick's Day. Despite the weather, the atmosphere was one of celebration. People were drinking in abundance, and several parties were hosted by various indigenous student associations. The parties included live music and dancing, which added to the festive atmosphere.

In order to celebrate the day, various events were organized, including a parade, a traditional feast, and various competitions. The weather was not the only challenge, as the celebration was compounded by the fact that many students were from different countries and cultures, which added to the diversity of the event. Despite the weather, the atmosphere was one of happiness and joy.

In addition to the traditional festivities, various competitions were organized, including a traditional dance competition and a traditional food contest. The competitions were a great way to promote the culture and traditions of St. Patrick's Day.

Poor field conditions cancel Ram opener against Curry

By Marceline Doner

As the sun blotted out March's last gasp, the rain soaked the field at Paul Ramon Field where the Surbiton Ram's Opening Day contest against Curry was supposed to be held.

The surging fields and showers soaked the field to a point where it was deemed unsafe for play. Although the field was not completely waterlogged, the rain was enough to soak the soil and make it soggy. The Surbiton Ram's coach had to cancel the game due to the poor field conditions.

For those who were looking forward to the start of the season, the cancellation was a disappointment. The Ram's were hoping to put their best foot forward and get the season off to a winning start. However, the weather had other plans.

Despite the wet conditions, the Surbiton Ram's showed their resilience and spirit. They did not let the weather bring them down and continued to train and prepare for the upcoming games. The team's determination paid off as they went on to have a successful season.

In other news, the Surbiton Ram's won several games throughout the season, cementing their position as one of the top teams in the league. Their hard work and dedication paid off, and they were able to achieve their goals.

As the season came to a close, the Surbiton Ram's reflected on their successes and setbacks. They were grateful for the opportunity to play and represent their team. The season was a great learning experience, and they couldn't wait to return next year stronger and better.
