Suffolk crime rate rises, so does number of arrests

By Marah Busch

The reported crime rate in the Suffolk County area has increased in 1981. According to the Suffolk County Police, there has been a noticeable rise in arrests for criminal offenses. The increased crime rate is attributed to various factors, including an increase in the number of arrests for drug-related offenses.

Janitors' union, administration to talk new contract next week

The Janitors' Union and the administration at Suffolk University reached an agreement to negotiate a new contract next week. The union has been seeking improved benefits and working conditions for the past few years.

Trustees to decide Ashburton changes

The trustees of Suffolk University are scheduled to meet next week to discuss changes to the Ashburton building. The building is currently undergoing renovation and will be used as a new academic center.

Suffolk crime rate rises, so does number of arrests

By Marah Busch

The reported crime rate in the Suffolk County area has increased in 1981. According to the Suffolk County Police, there has been a noticeable rise in arrests for criminal offenses. The increased crime rate is attributed to various factors, including an increase in the number of arrests for drug-related offenses.

Janitors' union, administration to talk new contract next week

The Janitors' Union and the administration at Suffolk University reached an agreement to negotiate a new contract next week. The union has been seeking improved benefits and working conditions for the past few years.

Trustees to decide Ashburton changes

The trustees of Suffolk University are scheduled to meet next week to discuss changes to the Ashburton building. The building is currently undergoing renovation and will be used as a new academic center.
Student, faculty changes mark Suffolk opening . .

New students assigned permanent faculty advisers
By Tony Gough
Freshmen and transfer students working with many of Suffolk's new faculty were the first to receive permanent advisers. All incoming freshmen and transfer students were assigned a faculty member from the very start of registration, and the program will continue during the fall semester.

"This is the first year we have assigned permanent advisers," said Donald K. Bonner, assistant director of the Admissions Office. "Before, all freshmen and transfers received temporary advisers, but faculty members were not available to freshmen until the third week of classes." Bonner added that the program is designed to help freshmen ease into college life, and the new faculty adviser will help them with a "get-to-know-you" session.

President Thomas B. DiNapoli, chairman of the Board of Trustees and superintendent for the year's orientation, said he was pleased with the new program. "We've been working on this for a long time," he said. "We're excited about it because it's going to make a difference for our students."

The program consists of 116 faculty members who have been assigned to 702 freshmen and 293 transfers. The faculty members are matched with students based on their academic interests and backgrounds. Each faculty member is assigned to two students, and the students are expected to meet with their adviser at least twice a semester.

"We're hoping to establish a strong relationship between faculty and students," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help students feel comfortable and at ease with their professors." Curran added that the program is designed to help students make the transition to college life.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

Over 400 freshmen enter Suffolk
By Jane Sertowich
Over 400 freshmen entered Suffolk this fall, according to the Office of Admissions. The freshmen number is up from last year's 399, and it is the largest freshman class in the university's history.

"We're very pleased with the number of freshmen," said Donald K. Bonner, assistant director of Admissions. "We've been working hard to attract students, and it's nice to see the results." Bonner added that the university's efforts to increase enrollment have paid off.

The freshmen number is up from last year's 399, and it is the largest freshman class in the university's history. "We're very pleased with the number of freshmen," said Donald K. Bonner, assistant director of Admissions. "We've been working hard to attract students, and it's nice to see the results." Bonner added that the university's efforts to increase enrollment have paid off.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're hoping to establish a strong relationship between faculty and students," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help students feel comfortable and at ease with their professors." Curran added that the program is designed to help students make the transition to college life.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

Job Development Officer expected to be named soon
By Donald K. Bonner
The new position of Job Development Officer will be created at Suffolk, according to John J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help our students find jobs," he said. "We believe the job development officer will be a valuable resource for our students.

"We're working with a number of organizations to help our students find jobs," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We're excited about the job development officer and look forward to seeing how it works." Curran added that the position is expected to be filled soon.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're hoping to establish a strong relationship between faculty and students," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help students feel comfortable and at ease with their professors." Curran added that the program is designed to help students make the transition to college life.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're working with a number of organizations to help our students find jobs," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We're excited about the job development officer and look forward to seeing how it works." Curran added that the position is expected to be filled soon.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're hoping to establish a strong relationship between faculty and students," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help students feel comfortable and at ease with their professors." Curran added that the program is designed to help students make the transition to college life.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're working with a number of organizations to help our students find jobs," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We're excited about the job development officer and look forward to seeing how it works." Curran added that the position is expected to be filled soon.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're hoping to establish a strong relationship between faculty and students," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We want to help students feel comfortable and at ease with their professors." Curran added that the program is designed to help students make the transition to college life.

"This is a great opportunity for us to get to know our students," said Peter J. Ennis, director of the Office of Student Services. "We're excited about the program and look forward to seeing how it works." Ennis added that the program is expected to continue next year.

"We're working with a number of organizations to help our students find jobs," said Joseph J. Curran, special assistant to the provost. "We're excited about the job development officer and look forward to seeing how it works." Curran added that the position is expected to be filled soon.
Maintenance contract talks stalled over health payments

Suffolk students to benefit from state meal tax exemption

HELLO

THE SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION (SGA)

JOBI
WELCOME BACK TO SCHOOL

170 Cambridge Street
227-8235

OMBUDSPERSON

Job Description:
Under Article 5, Section 5, of the SGA Constitution the Ombudsperson shall "act as an official liaison between students, faculty, and administration in the role of a regular faculty, continuing to hold the position of Ombudsperson indefinitely. The Ombudsperson is to represent the students, and is in no way bound to the SGA. The Ombudsperson shall have the authority to counsel students, faculty, and administration in any area that may be affected by the policies and procedures of the university." This position is on a volunteer basis.

How to Apply:
Please submit resumes and cover letters to Tom Elias, SGA President, c/o Student Activities Office, Rm. 5. Deadline will be Friday, September 25th. Interviews will be conducted on Monday, September 28th, and the Ombudsperson will be named Tuesday, September 29th.

The SGA will seek an interested student to fill the 1976-1977 Ombudsperson position.

SGA PARLIAMENTARIAN

Job Description:
All interested students should be familiar with "Roberts Rules of Order", be able to attend all SGA meetings and be expected to vote in a 3 to 2 persons on all SGA business (voting only). This position will be open to students who have not previously held an elected or appointed position, and shall be able to assist in planning and conducting workshops in Parliamentarian Procedures. All applicants, except those on academic probation, are eligible for this position. Acceptance of this position is on a volunteer basis. There are no positions for monetary compensation.

How to Apply:
Please submit resumes and cover letters to Tom Elias, SGA President, c/o Student Activities Office, Rm. 5. Deadline will be Wednesday, September 23rd at 4:30 P.M. Interviews will be conducted on Monday, September 28th. This position will be named Tuesday, September 29th.

The SGA will seek interested students to fill the 1976-1977 SGA Parliamentarian position.
Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

By John Edgar

Phi Delta Phi Law School Fraternity Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services. The frat also offers a free clinic, which is open to all members of the University. The clinic has a public service function and people are encouraged to come in. The frat also provides free legal advice and counseling. We will be holding a charity benefit for the clinic.

Law school adds 5 new faculty

By Robert Coelho

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

Phi Delta Phi Frat provides social services

The Journal is looking for a BUSINESS MANAGER

Submit resume to Editor-in-Chief
Joe Reppucci in RL19 by Friday, September 15

Woodward Drugs
26A Joy St. Boston, MA 02129
536-1605

Discount on prescriptions
for Suffolk students,
candy, magazines,
spirits for medicinal use only.

Student Discount
10% off any purchase with this ad and student ID.

Image Hair Cutting
THE NATURAL LOOK washes & wear cuts for long and short hair

20% off with this AD

223 Newbury
536-1605
Ensuring fiscal economy

Crime in the Lane - light
St. Anthony's feast; holy yet carnival atmosphere

by Sue Slaban

It's an occasion not to be missed. A time to let your hair down and enjoy the show. St. Anthony's feast is a special event that takes place in the heart of the city every year. The atmosphere is electric, with people coming from all over to experience the wonder of it all.

The feast is a celebration of the life of St. Anthony, who is known as the patron saint of the sick, the poor, and the lost. It's a time for people to come together and remember the story of St. Anthony, who was a man of great faith and compassion.

The day begins early in the morning with a mass in St. Anthony's Church. The church is packed with people from all walks of life, all there to honor St. Anthony. The service is beautiful, with music and prayers that fill the air.

After the mass, the festivities begin in earnest. The streets are lined with vendors selling food and drinks, and people are walking around, enjoying the sights and sounds of the day. There are floats being carried through the streets, with people dressed up in costume, adding to the atmosphere.

The highlight of the day is the parade, which takes place later in the afternoon. The parade is a fantastic spectacle, with people of all ages taking part. The streets are filled with people, all there to enjoy the show.

The parade is a time for people to come together and celebrate the life of St. Anthony. It's a time to remember the story of the saint, and to honor his legacy with joy and celebration.

The day ends with a mass in the evening, and then people return to their homes, exhausted but happy. St. Anthony's feast is a special event that brings people together, and reminds us of the power of faith and compassion.

The feast is a time to remember St. Anthony, and to celebrate the beauty of the human spirit. It's a time to let our hair down, and to enjoy the carnival atmosphere.
Thief steals money and student's sense of security

The Suffolk Journal recently reported an incident involving a thief who stole money from a student's bag. Suffolk's new placement director not worried about 'blow-ups' now

Suffolk's new placement director not worried about 'blow-ups' now

In the past, Suffolk's placement directors have faced challenges in managing the department, but the new director, Jennifer Lacks, is optimistic about the future. Lacks said she is not concerned about 'blow-ups' in the department and that she is working to improve the student experience.

Lacks said she has been working to improve the department's communication with students and that she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Lacks said she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Lacks said she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Suffolk's new placement director not worried about 'blow-ups' now

In the past, Suffolk's placement directors have faced challenges in managing the department, but the new director, Jennifer Lacks, is optimistic about the future. Lacks said she is not concerned about 'blow-ups' in the department and that she is working to improve the student experience.

Lacks said she has been working to improve the department's communication with students and that she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Lacks said she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Lacks said she is confident in the team's ability to handle any issues that may arise. She also said she is working to ensure that students feel valued and that their concerns are taken seriously.
Women's tennis: fitness key to successful season

by Joe Wilcox

The women's tennis team at Rollins has made it to the NCAA Division II nationals with a 12-0 record. The team's success is due to its dedication to fitness and teamwork.

The women's tennis team has been working hard to prepare for the nationals. "Fitness is key," says coach Linda Brown. "We have to be in shape to compete at this level." To achieve this goal, the team has been incorporating fitness into their practice routine. They have been doing cardiovascular exercises such as running and cycling, as well as strength training exercises to improve their overall fitness.

The team's success has not been without challenge. "It's been a long season," says Brown. "We've had some tough opponents, but we've been able to stay focused and keep working hard." The team's dedication to fitness has paid off, and they are looking forward to competing in the nationals.

Gutsy freshman recruit beats injuries, is hopeful

by Judy Williams

Gutsy freshman recruit Mary Brown has beaten injuries and is hopeful for the future.

Mary Brown, a freshman on the women's tennis team, has been working hard to stay on the court despite her injuries. "I've had a lot of ups and downs," says Brown. "But I've been able to stay focused and continue working towards my goals." To accomplish this, Brown has been doing physiotherapy and working with a trainer to strengthen her muscles.

Mary Brown's determination is inspiring to her teammates. "She's a real inspiration," says senior captain Lisa Smith. "She keeps pushing through and never gives up." Mary Brown's hard work has paid off, and she is hopeful for the future. "I want to continue working hard and see where this season takes me," says Brown. The women's tennis team is looking forward to seeing Mary Brown continue to improve and contribute to their success.

Sports Commentary

A 'fanatical' ordeal

by Michael A. Foster

The word "fanatical" is a short root word that describes someone who is extremely devoted to a cause or goal. It is often used to describe a person who is completely obsessed with a particular sport or hobby. For example, a football fanatical might be someone who is so dedicated to their favorite team that they spend every waking hour following the team's progress.

The word "fanatical" can also be used to describe a person who is overly strict or rigid in their beliefs or behavior. For example, a fanatical vegetarian might be someone who is so dedicated to a vegan lifestyle that they refuse to eat any meat, even if it is cooked by someone else.

The word "fanatical" can also be used in a more positive sense to describe someone who is extremely passionate about a particular subject or idea. For example, a fanatical scientist might be someone who is so dedicated to their research that they are willing to work long hours and give up their personal time.

In summary, the word "fanatical" can be used to describe someone who is extremely devoted to a cause or goal, overly strict or rigid in their beliefs or behavior, or extremely passionate about a particular subject or idea. It is a word that can be used in a variety of contexts to describe different types of devotion and dedication.
Betraying greyhounds on a hunch; hold off on mortgaging the house

By Joe Wilco

I placed right to win for $2.00. The track was on the greyhound that carried the white jockey cap with the word "Grey" on it. The racetrack is located near the Monticello Park in New York. It turned out to be a hit. I checked the greyhound's number was 27. The bet paid $2.00 to win and $2.00 to show. The greyhound ran the final lap in 26.6 seconds and won the race in 1:00.6. The greyhound's number was 27. The greyhound has a score of 93. The greyhound ran the final lap in 26.6 seconds and won the race. The greyhound's number was 27. The greyhound has a score of 93.

Skateboarding arena offers hills and thrills

by Carol Vancall

Skateboarding arena offers hills and thrills. The arena offers hills and thrills. The arena is located near the Monticello Park in New York. The arena has a score of 93. The arena offers hills and thrills. The arena has a score of 93.
Tom Jones brings excitement to Cohasset

by Joan C. Eisma

The Boston Globe Staff Writer

Tom Jones, the 25-year-old British superstar, brought excitement to Cohasset High School yesterday, as the Cohasset High School performing arts program's annual spring musical.

The cast included a number of student performers and professional actors. The show was directed by the school's Drama Department and featured a variety of musical numbers and dialogue.

The career, philosophy, and music of an 'everyman' in retrospect

by Steve Zagorski

The Boston Globe Staff Writer

The career, philosophy, and music of an 'everyman' in retrospect
"A Woman In The Window"... pleasant scenery but no substance

by Alan Whitley

A young woman loved by a young man

The most recently released of the Russian films, "A Woman In The Window" by Mikhail Rostov, is getting good reviews.

The story centers on a young man, Petr, who falls in love with an older woman, Zoya. However, the woman is already married and has two children.

Petr and Zoya's relationship is forbidden by society, but they continue to see each other. Their love is expressed through their letters and their occasional meetings.

The film is set in a small village in Russia during the early 20th century, and the scenery is beautiful. The colors are vibrant, and the costumes are authentic.

However, the film lacks substance. The story is not very compelling, and the characters are not very interesting. The dialogue is often stilted and the acting is not very convincing.

In the end, Petr and Zoya are forced to give up their love for each other, and Zoya returns to her husband and children.

The film ends on a sad note, but it is not very satisfying. Overall, "A Woman In The Window" is a pleasant but unmemorable film.

Latest by "BOSTON"

by Rick Goodman

"BOSTON" magazine's annual awards recognize the best in Boston's cultural scene.

The awards are divided into several categories, including film, theater, music, and literature.

The film category is often the most competitive, and this year's awards are no exception. The winners were announced at a ceremony at the Boston Opera House.

"Slave"...melodramatic study of Russian politics

by Rosemary Katona

"Slave" is a new Russian film that has been receiving mixed reviews.

The film is set in the early 20th century and follows the life of a young woman who is taken as a slave by a powerful man.

Although the concept of the film is interesting, the execution is often weak. The acting is wooden and the dialogue is often stilted.

The film is also very melodramatic, and the events are often exaggerated.

Overall, "Slave" is a film that is not very successful. The concept is interesting, but the execution is not up to the mark.
Suffolk area assaults, robberies on rise