INTERESTED IN WRITING ABOUT THE ARTS?

The Journal Arts Supplement is in its preparatory stages, and if you’ve got an idea for a story about the theater, music, radio, film, television, painting, sculpture, photography or any other media, come to a supplement meeting on Dec. 2 at 1 p.m. in F603... or come down to the Journal office (RL.19) and talk to Arts Editor Jeff Putnam at your convenience.
High hopes for Women's basketball

By Leslie Treadwell

First-year women's basketball coach Mary O'Brien has enthusiastically greeted her players, many of whom are returning from last year, when the team posted a record of 3-12. O'Brien, who is a former member of the University basketball team, said she is optimistic about the upcoming season. "I think we have a good chance of having a successful season," she said.

Rams prepare for season

The Rams, under the leadership of new coach John Willohy, are gearing up for the upcoming season with high hopes. Willohy, who was previously the coach of the men's basketball team, is bringing a wealth of experience and knowledge to the program. He has been working closely with the players to develop their skills and strategize for the season. The Rams are looking forward to a successful season under Willohy's guidance.

Revenge for Warriors

The Warriors, who lost to the Rams in a close game last season, are focused on avenging their defeat. Coach Ken Johnson said, "We are determined to bring home the victory this time. We will be prepared and ready to give our best effort." The Warriors have been training hard and are confident in their chances of emerging victorious.
