SGA questions Program Board reimbursement

by Alice Whalen

The Student Government Association last week questioned the Program Board's decision to withhold reimbursement of $250 for the Jan. 25 Black Student Organization (BSO) meeting.

SGA President William Grant noted that the SGA had passed a motion at its meeting last fall to allocate $1,000 for Program Board activities, but that it was not yet apparent how much money had been allocated. He said that the SGA would be revising the rules of the Program Board in order to better control its budgets, and that the Program Board would be asked to provide the SGA with a detailed report of all expenditures.

A group of students, including members of the Jewish Student Organization, the Women's Support Group, and the Washington Internship Program, met with President Grant to discuss the issue. They expressed concern that the Program Board had not reimbursed them for their meeting, despite the fact that they had submitted all necessary documentation. They also criticized the Program Board's decision to withhold reimbursement without providing any explanation.

Grant said that the SGA would be revising the rules of the Program Board in order to better control its budgets, and that the Program Board would be asked to provide the SGA with a detailed report of all expenditures. He said that the SGA was concerned about the issue and would take steps to ensure that all students received appropriate reimbursement for their activities.

New political group at Suffolk

By Land Tipton

Suffolk has elected a proposal for a 2.5 million dollar state grant to be applied towards development costs in the town of Charles River Park. The proposal is expected to be funded in February.

The proposal was developed by the Suffolk Student Government Association (SSGA) in conjunction with the Suffolk Student Government Board (SSGB). The proposal was submitted to the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) in October and has since been approved.

The funds will be used to develop and implement programs and initiatives to promote and support the use of outdoor recreation areas in the town of Charles River Park. The proposal includes a plan to develop a community center, to provide educational programs, and to support the development of public open spaces.

The proposed plan includes a 2.5 million dollar grant from the DEP, as well as a commitment from Suffolk to provide an additional 2.5 million dollars from other sources. The plan also includes a commitment from Suffolk to provide ongoing support for the development of the area.

The proposal was developed in response to the DEP's request for proposals to support the development of outdoor recreation areas in the town of Charles River Park. The proposal was developed in collaboration with the Suffolk Student Government Association (SSGA) and the Suffolk Student Government Board (SSGB).

SSGA and SSGB have been working closely with the DEP to develop the proposal, and have already submitted the proposal to the DEP.

O'Sullivan fills Guida's old spot

by Denise Baker

Although he was an engineering student in another area, while doing his generals with a concentration in Chemical Engineering at Washington (D.C.), he has been hired to replace Frank Guida, who had become the new SGA president.

O'Sullivan, who had taken the job of ChemE student in a similar role, added that he was excited by the new role and was looking forward to contributing.

Junior - Senior week finalized

by John Spakowski

Student Government Activities Chairman, John Spakowski, said that the Junior-Senior Week, which was held on Wednesday, May 11, had been a success. The week culminated with a banquet at the Student Union, where the Student Senate voted on their nominations for the homecoming court.

Spring interns chosen

The Suffolk athletic teams have announced the selection of their spring interns. The members are selected each year from the current junior and senior class. They will be assisting in various departments such as ticket sales, public relations, and media relations. The internship is designed to provide hands-on experience and preparation for those interested in a career in sports management.

Financial aid revisions

In a recent meeting of the Financial Aid Committee, several changes were approved to the financial aid program. These changes include an increased percentage of need-based aid, a new scholarship program for academic excellence, and a revised system for determining eligibility. The goal is to provide more financial support to students from diverse backgrounds.

'Overwhelming’ kick-off

The Suffolk community kicked off the spring semester with a lively ‘overwhelming’ event. Students, faculty, and staff gathered to celebrate the start of the new term. The event included music, refreshments, and an address by the president of the college. The atmosphere was vibrant, with people of all ages and backgrounds enjoying the festivities.

SGA and PBC stop bickering!

A recent meeting of the Student Government Association (SGA) and the Public Broadcasting Committee (PBC) was marked by a change in tone. The two groups, which had previously been at odds, agreed to work together on a project that is important to the campus community. The collaboration is seen as a positive step towards improving the student experience at Suffolk.

Suffolk, will love reign?

A recent survey conducted by the Suffolk Student Union revealed that the majority of students are eager to return to campus. The results suggest that students are ready to engage in the academic and extracurricular activities that define college life, despite the challenges of the past few years.

More than a ‘visitor’

A recent article in the Suffolk Journal highlighted the importance of students being more than just ‘visitors’ on campus. The piece emphasized the role that students play in shaping the campus culture and community. It encouraged students to participate fully in the university experience, both academically and socially, in order to make the most of their time at Suffolk.

Reading the Phoenix and loving dangerously

in Black Whispers

"You never told me that — what is it?" I teased. "What pink smut you learn to make you dress crazy?"

I had to admit that the scene was quite delightful. The air was filled with a sense of mystery, and the lights of the city were reflected in the dancing faces of the crowd. The music was lively, and the atmosphere was electric.

It was a perfect night for a night out on the town. I couldn't help but feel that this was the start of something special. I was determined to make the most of it.

As we walked through the city streets, we were surrounded by a sea of people. People from all walks of life were gathered together, enjoying the music and the company. It was a night to remember.

I couldn't help but think about all the things that could happen on this night. It was a night of adventure, of discovery, of love.

The night was young, and the possibilities were endless. I was ready for anything that came my way. I was ready to make the most of this special night.

And so, as we walked through the city streets, I was filled with a sense of excitement and anticipation. I was ready to take on whatever the night had in store for me. I was ready to make this night one that I would never forget.
Women's basketball wins one, loses one

by Carole Smith

The women's basketball team found themselves on the losing end of a close game against the University of New England on February 12. The team was led by a strong performance from guard Jennifer Johnson, who scored 16 points in the game. Despite the loss, the team showed resilience and continued to fight through the remainder of the season.

The game started off strong for Suffolk, with a 10-0 lead after the first few minutes. However, the University of New England quickly adjusted and was able to take control of the game. Despite several attempts to close the gap, the team was unable to overcome the deficit.

The loss was tough for the team, but they remain optimistic for the remainder of the season. "We have a lot of experience on our team," said Coach Smith. "We just need to continue to work hard and play our best games."
