More ROTC rebuttal

Editor

As was published in your issue of November 19, 1981, Professor Thomas F. McMahon taken recently upon a national conservative editorial page, referred to ROTC as the "National Youth Organization of the Far Left," an attempt against allowing ROTC on campus. McMahon is not alone in his attempts against ROTC because, among other reasons, it is the philosophy of a majority of universities, which, in the last few years, have been taking every measure to avoid the less than desirable traditions of ROTC, and the fact that the ROTC is a national program, the point that McMahon seems to miss. The students at Suffolk College are able to take ROTC and attend Suffolk College at the same time, whereas ROTC at ROTC institutions, such as the United States Military Academy, is exclusively a military institution. The ROTC students at Suffolk College have the ability to receive ROTC training in addition to a college education, whereas, at another institution, ROTC takes the student's entire college time and does not allow him to receive a college education.

Thanksgiving: Holiday declines "I do not care attitude" prevails

By Ann Candela

Thanksgiving — a time to remember and to be thankful for all the blessings we have. It is a time to reflect on the things we are grateful for and to express our appreciation to those who have made our lives better. Thanksgiving is a special day that brings families together and creates a sense of community. It is a time to share a delicious meal with loved ones and to enjoy each other's company. Thanksgiving is a time to be grateful for all the good things in life and to give thanks for the blessings we have. It is a time to remember the sacrifices that were made to bring about the freedom we enjoy today. Thanksgiving is a day to remember that even in the midst of our daily struggles, there is always something to be thankful for. Thanksgiving is a time to celebrate and to give thanks for all the good things in life.

取得信用是一场“Catch-22”情况

斯维拉·帕伦

斯维拉·帕伦也提倡着将最新的银行信用报告作为衡量个人信用的一个参考。除此之外，她还建议在使用信用卡时要仔细阅读条款，并了解信用卡的利率和费用。

信用报告的重要性

信用报告在信用申请过程中扮演着至关重要的角色。信用报告能够反映你的信用历史，包括你的信用额度、还款记录、逾期情况等。

信用报告的来源

信用报告通常由信用报告机构（如Equifax、Experian和TransUnion）生成，这些机构会收集和整理来自银行、信用卡公司、零售商等机构的数据，形成你的信用报告。

信用报告的用途

信用报告主要用于评估个人的信用历史和信用额度。这些信息对于申请信用卡、汽车贷款等金融产品时尤为重要。银行和金融机构会根据你的信用报告来决定是否批准你的申请。

信用报告的影响

信用报告对你的信用历史和信用额度有深远的影响。良好的信用报告可以让你更容易获得贷款，并且可以降低利率。而不良的信用报告则可能导致你无法获得贷款，或者只能获得更高的利率。

信用报告的更新

信用报告每隔一段时间（通常是每月）就会更新一次。信用报告机构会收集新的信用信息，并将其纳入你的信用报告中。因此，定期检查你的信用报告是十分必要的。
U2 triumphs in Boston show

by Mark O'Toole

Trenton, N.J. (AP) — In a move calculated to impress the band's Boston fans, the Irish rockers U2 performed a show Monday night for just the second time in five weeks — and it was their most talked-about concert of the tour.

The group, which has been playing to sold-out crowds across the U.S., played a 2 1/2-hour show at the Boston Garden that was worth the wait.

The band, known for its high-energy, interactive concerts, brought their best to the Garden, where they performed a mix of old and new songs.

The setlist included classics like "With or Without You," "Bad," and "New Year's Eve," as well as newer tracks like "The Getaway" and "The Little Things That Give You Power." The crowd responded with enthusiasm throughout the show, with fans singing along and calling out requests.

In addition to their usual display of guitar solos and drum fills, U2 also invited a young boy to join them on stage to play a few chords on an electric guitar.

The show included a special guest appearance by Bono's wife, Ali Hewson, who sang a duet with him on "U2's" hit song "One." The couple's duet was a heartwarming moment for fans who have followed their love story since they first met.

The performance ended with a patriotic finale, as Bono led the crowd in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner." The U2 fans were visibly moved by the show and the band's commitment to their fans.

Pursuit of A.B. Cooper: story of undeveloped potential

by Yvonne Beckett

A.B. Cooper was a woman who had a dream to become a successful businesswoman, but her potential seemed to be lost in the mists of time.

She was born in a small village in the countryside, where she spent her childhood dreaming of a better life. Her parents were poor farmers, and they couldn't afford to send her to school, so she spent her days helping her mother with the chores.

Despite the obstacles, A.B. showed a great deal of intelligence and determination. She was a quick learner, and she soon became known as the smartest girl in her village.

When she was 18 years old, A.B. decided to leave the village and go to the city to find her fortune. She worked hard and saved up enough money to pay for her train fare.

When she arrived in the city, A.B. was overwhelmed by the sights and sounds. She wasn't sure where to begin, but she knew she had to find a job.

She ended up working as a secretary for a large corporation, and she quickly rose through the ranks. She became a top executive, and she was known for her intelligence and her hard work.

But despite her success, A.B. was always haunted by the fact that she could have been something more. She dreamed of starting her own business, but she never had the courage to take the leap.

A.B. Cooper's story is a cautionary tale of what can happen when potential is left untapped. Her legacy serves as a reminder to us all to pursue our dreams, no matter how daunting they may seem.

New advisor would like to expand role-- Minority advisor still a part-time position

by Lisa Cottle

Robert J. Wood, Suffolk's part-time minority student coordinator, has an off-duty assignment of teaching classes in Mr. Wood's role of teaching classes in "The most difficult thing about minority advisor duties is trying to make minority students feel comfortable," he said. "Students need to know they have someone they can talk to."

Ward said that he would like to see a more uniform role with minority advisors across the nation. Ward told the Journal that he should be learning continuous. Ward said that he does not think minorities have a full-time minority advisor on staff, but that they are making an informal effort.

Ward would like to make some positive changes. He found that students are more comfortable in classes, such as minority student coordination. Ward said that he had more opportunities to learn about the needs of minority students, and Ward said that he thought the minority advisor is a position of the administration, not the students.

Ward was also interested in learning the minority advisors' role in minority student coordination.
