Five police officers suspended

By Joshua Blank

Four police officers in the Suffolk University Police Department have been suspended for failing to be on duty. This is a serious violation of the police department's regulations.

The police officers were suspended for failing to report to duty on a regular basis. The department had received complaints from students regarding the unprofessional behavior of the officers.

The officers were suspended for a minimum of 10 days, but the duration of the suspension is still under review. The department is investigating the matter further.

Meanwhile, Suffolk University Police Chief Edward T. Fenehan has assured the students that the department is taking all necessary steps to address the situation.

According to Fenehan, the department is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all members of the community. He added that the suspension is a necessary step to ensure the department's commitment to the highest standards of professionalism.

The officers involved in the incident will be reviewed by the department's disciplinary board, which will determine the appropriate course of action.

The department is also reaching out to students to ensure that they are aware of the situation and to encourage them to report any concerns they may have.

The department is committed to maintaining a high level of professionalism and integrity, and will continue to work closely with the community to ensure a safe and secure environment for all.

Press conference called

New allegations in Mulvey case

By Nancy Bruns

Suffolk University's M.B.A. Association and the E.D.S.A. will host a press conference on Thursday, February 23, to announce new allegations in the Mulvey case.

The allegations involve a former Suffolk University student who was accused of sexual misconduct.

The student, who was identified as John Mulvey, was accused of raping a female student in 1997. The case was reopened in 2007, but the student was acquitted.

The M.B.A. Association and the E.D.S.A. are asking the university to take action to address the allegations and to ensure the safety of all students.

The press conference will be held at 6:00 p.m. in Sawyer Auditorium. The university has been notified of the press conference.

Farewell but not goodbye

By Larry Butchery

Suffolk's Department Chair, Arthur West, has announced that he will be retiring from his position at the end of this academic year.

West has served as the Department Chair for the past 10 years, overseeing the growth and development of the Biology Department.

During his tenure, the Biology Department has seen significant growth in enrollment, and has received numerous grants and awards.

West's contribution to the university has been invaluable, and he will be greatly missed. The university has expressed its gratitude for his service.

The Biology Department has been named after West to honor his contributions. The department is committed to continuing his legacy of excellence and innovation.

Freshman V.P. ejected from SGA

By Sue Dyer
Freshman Rep. Mike Leone has been ejected from the Student Government Association. Leone was charged with disrupting the process of the organization and was reported to have shouted profanities and additional obscenities at a meeting of the SGA executive board on Tuesday.

Leone, a Freshman Rep., advised that he had filed complaints about the school's counseling and financial aid offices. Leone stated that he had filed a complaint regarding these issues on the advice of a professor, and that it was then reported to the dean's office. He claimed that he had been given a warning that his behavior was disruptive and that he was asked to leave the meeting.

Leone also alleged that he had been denied access to financial aid information for his family. He stated that he was unhappy with the amount of financial aid he was receiving and was trying to find ways to increase it.

Leone was also charged with disorderly conduct and was ordered to appear in court on a later date.

Student organizations given phone use restrictions

By Johnathon Mattison

In an effort to control the use of phones on academic-related activities, the Student Organization Office has established restrictions on phone use. The restrictions are designed to prevent students from using phones during presentations, meetings, and other academic-related activities.

The restrictions were implemented after complaints from professors and administrators regarding the use of phones during academic-related activities. The restrictions are as follows:

- Students are prohibited from using phones during presentations and meetings.
- Students are prohibited from using phones during class lectures.
- Students are prohibited from using phones during academic-related activities.

Any violation of these restrictions will result in disciplinary action.

More SGA news...

By Johnathon Mattison

This week, the SGA held its annual election for executive board members. The election was held on campus and was open to all students. The election was a success, with a high turnout of voters.

The results of the election were as follows:

- President: Emily Johnson
- Vice President: John Smith
- Treasurer: Sarah Brown
- Secretary: David Lee

The new executive board will begin its term on January 1, 2024.

Debate team wins again

By Tim Dowkes

The Suffolk Debate Team has won several tournaments this year, including the American Forensics Association National Tournament, the New England Regional Forensics Tournament, and the New England Invitational. The team's success has been attributed to the hard work and dedication of its members.

The team's recent victory was at the National Forensics Association Tournament, where they won both the men's and women's divisions.

The team has also had success in the New England Invitational, where they won both the men's and women's divisions.

The team's next tournament is the National Forensics Association Tournament, where they are expected to perform well.

Cannery Row can and cannot

Cannery Row, spawning the "Big浪" golden years and Dust Bowl legends, directed by Charles L. Seaton, is truly the soul of the film. While I can't comment on the actual shooting and filming locations, I can comment on the movie itself. The film is a classic, and thecast delivers their roles convincingly. Unfortunately, due to the constraints of the time, the film is not as true to the source material as I would have liked. However, the film is still a classic and worth watching.

Watch out! Norma may have her 'eye' on you!

The color of the day is red. The reason is almost universal and well known. At the May 1980 West Point reunion, when Norma met her old flame, John, she was wearing a red dress. As John's eyes met Norma's, his gaze was fixed on her and not on her dress. Thus, Norma's 'eye' on you means that she is interested in you.
