SGA rates its past performance

by Carol Carasconte

As the third semester comes to an end, a picture of the past is drawn, depicting the progress of the SGA and other student activities throughout the year. The Student Government of Suffolk (SGA) is the governing body of the student body, responsible for the management of all student activities, events, and services. The SGA consists of different committees and subcommittees, each focused on different areas such as finance, public relations, and student activities.

Suffolk up for reaccreditation

by Gina Russell

Suffolk University is presently up for an initial reaccreditation by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) because it was previously accredited by the same organization. Suffolk has been an active member of NEASC for many years, and the university has undergone a number of improvements to meet the requirements set by the organization.

The accreditation process involves comprehensive reviews of all aspects of the university's operations, including academic programs, faculty qualifications, and student services.

$1.6 M grant to be used for 7 activities

by John Abrahams

Maurine Cemener Photo

The SGA has received a $1.6 million grant from the U.S. Army Research Office to support the development of new technologies in the field of robotics and artificial intelligence.

The grant will be used to fund a series of seven research projects, each of which will focus on different aspects of the field. The projects will be conducted by leading researchers from various institutions across the country.

"This grant is a significant opportunity for our students to work on cutting-edge research and develop new technologies that will have a real impact on the world," said SGA President David Robbins.

The seven projects are as follows:

1. Development of new algorithms for robotic navigation
2. Creation of a new platform for artificial intelligence
3. Exploration of the potential of quantum computing in robotics
4. Study of the physical properties of materials for use in robotics
5. Investigation of the role of machine learning in decision-making
6. Development of a new system for monitoring and controlling robots
7. Research on the ethical implications of robotics and artificial intelligence

SGA committees report

by Lisa Noreen

The SGA has been working hard to improve the student experience and has made progress on several initiatives.

President Katie Perman said that the SGA is committed to making the student experience better and is working on several initiatives to achieve this goal.

"We have been working on several initiatives to improve the student experience," said Perman. "We have made progress on several initiatives, and we are continuing to work on them to make sure that our students have the best possible experience."

Tattoos anger some students

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent trend of students getting tattoos. I have noticed that the number of students with tattoos has been increasing, and I believe that this is a serious issue that needs to be addressed.

Firstly, tattoos are a permanent form of body modification and can have negative consequences. They can affect job opportunities, especially in professional fields where tattoos may be considered inappropriate. In addition, tattoos can also cause health problems, such as infections or allergic reactions.

Secondly, tattoos can also represent a form of self-expression or rebellion against societal norms. However, it is important to note that tattoos are not a substitute for mature decision-making and responsible behavior.

In conclusion, I urge the administration to take action to educate students about the potential consequences of getting tattoos and to develop policies that discourage this behavior. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[Student Name]

Thanks for canned food drive

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Mountain Club, I would like to express our gratitude for the generous donations of canned food items that were collected during our recent drive. The food items will be utilized to support a local food bank that helps to provide meals to those in need.

We would like to thank all the individuals who contributed to this drive, including our members, friends, and community members. Your generosity is greatly appreciated and will make a significant difference in the lives of those in need.

Thank you for your support.

Grievance concerning Cobbscook article

Dear Dr. [Name],

I am writing to express my concern about the article titled "Cobbscook: A Paradigm," published in the recent issue of the [Journal Name].

The article, written by [Author Name], contains several factual inaccuracies and misleading statements that do not reflect the true conditions of the Cobbscook area. The author's portrayal of the residents as poor and uneducated is particularly disturbing and does not accurately represent the community.

I urge you to consider these concerns and take appropriate action to address the inaccuracies in the article. I believe that it is important to promote a accurate and fair representation of our community.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Punking out — A Boston Guide

Citing the number of gay cruising spots in the city, the Society for Individual Rights has issued a guide to help gay men be more aware of their surroundings and to protect themselves from being targeted while cruising. The guide offers tips on what to look for and how to respond to potential threats, and encourages individuals to take action if they feel unsafe. The Society also encourages local authorities to be more responsive to the needs of the community and to take steps to prevent discrimination and violence against gay individuals.
The battle for human rights

by Michelle MacDonald

Aboard the ocean liner Queen of Persia, the year was 1869. History was about to be made.

It was the first time that a man of color had been commanded to ensure that all passengers received equal treatment. This historic event was the beginning of a new chapter in the fight for human rights.

The battle for human rights continues to this day, with individuals and organizations working tirelessly to ensure that everyone is treated with dignity and respect.

For those whose toughest scholastic achievement is paying the tuition.

It takes more than just a lot of hard work to cut through school these days. It takes a lot more. More and more people find themselves in situations where they need to take on additional responsibilities to help produce their biggest wins at school. Making the grade.

And to think event has to be a student to do for themselves. It sounds like a great idea, but it can also be a challenge. The new parent loan to undergraduate students (PLS) program enables students to borrow money for their student loan bills.

You can learn more with all the details at PLS, the Parent Education Loan Plan. PLS offers a variety of loan options, including private and federal loans, to help you meet your financial needs.

What do you think of the Herald situation?

The Globe is a better paper.

Dan Belich, Editor-in-Chief

I read The Globe but there should be more than one paper.

- Charlene Pelletti

I read The Herald. If I folded it I'd read The Globe. It doesn't matter either way.

'Moonlighting' makes political statement

But the wacky, off-the-wall variety shows that made 'Moonlighting' a hit are simply too much for the politically correct press. Now, the show is under fire for its tongue-in-cheek presentation of life in the 1980s. The show is being accused of being politically incorrect.

Hoopsters pound Salem State 88-76

by Paul Vacares

The day started overcast, but by 7:30 p.m. as the sun set, the sky was filled with a golden hue, and the Hoopsters were ready for their match. The Salem State Spartans were no match for the Hoopsters, who dominated the game from the opening tip. The Hoopsters' fast-paced offense and strong defense led to a comfortable win, 88-76.
