Lawyer presents case for romance

By Doreene PhD

The arguments presented by the lawyer today, who spoke on the topic of "Law and Romance," were compelling and insightful. The lawyer began by stating that the primary reason for the law's existence is to protect the rights and interests of individuals. She argued that the law should be seen as an essential tool in maintaining a harmonious society, where individuals can pursue their romantic endeavors without fear of legal repercussions.

The lawyer cited numerous cases where the law has been used to either protect or punish romantic behavior. She highlighted the importance of understanding the context in which romantic actions occur, as this can significantly influence legal outcomes. The lawyer concluded by stressing the importance of creating a legal framework that balances the protection of individual rights with the maintenance of social order.

The lawyer's presentation was well-received by the audience, who were left with a deeper appreciation for the role of law in shaping and regulating romantic relationships.

Last Call for a 19 year old

Sophomore to become a 21 year old Army Officer.

The Army offers college sophomores the opportunity to earn an officer's commission in two years. The deadline for this year's class is May 1. Apply now and you are accepted for the second two year program, you attend a six week summer camp, for which you'll be paid approximately $2000. And that's not all. You may find yourself in the best position of leadership status ever being in.

Then back to college and the Army ROTC Advanced Course in the fall. If you've done exceptionally well at camp, you may be heading back to college with a full two year scholarship.

For the next two years, you learn what it takes to be an Army officer. You get the kind of management and leadership experience that will be an asset to you in any career, military or civilian.

You will earn an extra $100 a month up to 29 months. And when you graduate, you will have earned your college degree along with the gold bar of an Army officer.

Ram nine start season with victory

By Steve Benetami

The Broadview Ram football team has a new quarterback and it shows! The team started its season with a victory over the Elgin Beaches, 40-0.

The Rams' starting quarterback is Mike Nowakowski, who replaced the injured Tim Thompson. Thompson, a senior, was a key player for the Rams last year, but his injury forced Nowakowski into the starting role.

The Rams' defense was led by junior linebacker Jack O'Connor, who recorded two sacks and a forced fumble. The defense also held the Beaches to just 31 yards of total offense.

The Rams are looking to build on their strong performance last season and are hoping to make a run at the conference championship.

Rams take second place in Suffolk’s first track and field meet

By Mark Myers

The Suffolk Rams came in second place in their first track and field meet of the season. The meet was held at the Joe Coroa Track and Field Complex on April 1.

The Rams were edged out by the Stony Brook Seawolves, who scored 132 points to Suffolk’s 123. Both teams did well in a variety of events, but Stony Brook was able to come out on top.

In the individual events, Suffolk had strong performances in the 100 meters and the long jump. Senior Andrew Johnson won the 100 meters in a time of 10.8 seconds, while sophomore Emily Thompson took first place in the long jump with a leap of 5.2 meters.

Overall, the Rams were pleased with their performance and are looking forward to their next meet. Next up is a home meet against the Stony Brook Seawolves on April 8.

Baseball team has young, strong outlook

By Mark Myers

The Suffolk University baseball team has high hopes for the 2023 season. The team has a strong lineup of young talent, including freshman pitcher Mike Davis and junior catcher Samantha Rodriguez.

Davis is expected to be a key player on the team, with his strong arm and solid pitching. Rodriguez is also expected to make an impact, with her strong bat and defensive skills.

The team is looking to improve upon last season’s record, when they finished 12-18. With a solid core of returning players and some promising newcomers, the team is confident they can have a successful season.

WSFR gets one step closer to cafeteria

John Alhad
The Freshman Club advisor at Suffolk University, has approached the A.A.U.B. with a proposal that would allow the students of Suffolk to receive more than just access to the cafeteria.

The proposal involves allowing the students to purchase a meal plan, which would allow them to eat at the cafeteria for a reduced price. The current plan, which allows students to eat at the cafeteria for free, is not sustainable for the college and would lead to a financial loss for the college.

The proposal includes a meal plan for students that would allow them to purchase a set number of meals for a specific price. The meals would be valid for a specific period, and students would be able to purchase additional meals for a fee.

The proposal also includes a system for tracking the meal plan usage, which would allow the college to monitor the number of meals purchased and adjust the plan accordingly.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions from the students. Some students are excited about the possibility of getting a discount on their meals, while others are concerned about the fairness of the system.

The proposal is currently in the early stages of development and will require the approval of the A.A.U.B. and the Suffolk University administration.

On the diagram above, the A equals the location of the cafeteria and the B equals the location of the dormitory. The lines represent the possible route that the students could take to get to the cafeteria. The lines are drawn to show the shortest possible route that the students could take to get to the cafeteria.
