Reflections of Three Mile Island

by Ray Pantaleo

The 1979 accident was a time of fear, anxiety, and uncertainty. It was a time when people everywhere were asking themselves whether nuclear power was a safe source of energy. The accident at Three Mile Island in Pennsylvania was a wake-up call for the nation. It was a reminder that nuclear power plants are not invincible, and that accidents can happen. The accident at Three Mile Island was a cautionary tale, a lesson to be learned. It was a reminder that we must be vigilant in our efforts to ensure the safety of our nuclear power plants.

Boston Breakers Lure Local Collegians with Lucrative Offers

The Boston Breakers are a professional soccer team that plays in the Women's Professional Soccer League. They have been luring local collegians with lucrative offers. In an effort to attract more fans, the team has been offering incentives to local students. These incentives include discounts on tickets, free merchandise, and the opportunity to meet the players. The Breakers are hoping that these incentives will help them increase their fan base and generate more support for the team.

Talking TV with Monica Collins

Monica's own 'Dream Team'

by Susanne Zhao

Monica Collins may have dubbed their show "Monica Collins Morning Live," but when the curtain goes up on the television drama of her own dream team, from the existing scenes on the three sets their duo were not mentioned.

Collins said she was "the world's most well-known morning show host in the history of television," and the "stars" of the dream team were the actors of her former shows. The "stars" of her show are a combination of the two "stars" that Collins herself is known for, as a strong, powerful character on the morning show circuit. Should the Tom Ellis "dream" give his all to what he's doing? But there's something you can't convince him, he knows what's going on.

Being a TV critic is not the same as being a film or theater critic...

The 'Eye' at Suffolk

Norma Nathan; 'Wingo' will zingo Globe

by Shari Reddy

While the news is getting bigger, the number of networks is getting smaller. Home News Network, a new cable news network, wants to make a splash in the TV world. Norma Nathan, the network's CEO, said, "We want to be the network that provides the most news, not just the most entertainment."

"Wingo" is a new talk show that will be broadcast daily, hosted by John Wingo. The show features interviews with celebrities and news personalities, and will be seen in over 100 cities across the country.

Collins: 'You can't be a screamer in this job'.

"You can't be a screamer in this job," said Monica Collins, "One of the biggest mistakes I've seen is when a critic gets too excited and starts yelling. You have to be calm and collected." Collins has been a critic for over 20 years, and has seen many changes in the industry. She said, "I remember when I first started, there were only a few networks. Now there are over 50. It's a tough job, but I love it."
ARTS

'Flashdance': lots of dazzle, little substance

In Paul Newman's 'Flashdance,' a street dancer illegally gains entry into a prestigious ballet academy, where he's opposed by the school's strict director. Jennifer Beals stars as the title role.

Come Slowly, Eden: worth the trip

"Come Slowly, Eden," directed by Jules Dassin, is a film about the final years of a federal prison. The story is told through flashbacks and the present day. The film is a powerful and moving picture that delves deep into the human psyche.

We don't need a hit single

by Kevin Connal

The only song I can think of that could be blamed for Triumph's lack of success is Tumbleweed. Since that song was written, other bands — like the Rolling Stones and Black Sabbath — have come and gone, but Triumph has not changed one bit. I was always more interested in the songs than the style, and I think that's why I was so interested in Triumph. The songs were good, and the style was good, but the songwriting was what really mattered.

I can't say I was a huge fan of Triumph, but I was always interested in their music. I think they were one of the best bands to come out of the 70s, and I think they were one of the best bands to come out of the 80s. Their sound was unique, and their songs were great.

Album Reviews

Grateful Dead gets better with age

by Kevin Connal

In an era where most of the heavy metal bands have changed to a more commercial sound, the Grateful Dead has managed to stay true to its roots. This year they have released a new album that is, for the most part, a return to the sound that made them famous.

The album opens with a cover of the classic Bad Company song, "Can't Get Enough", and it's a great way to start the album. The rest of the album is a mix of original songs and covers, and it's all done in the Grateful Dead style.

The Grateful Dead have been around for a long time, and they have seen many changes in the music industry. But they have always managed to stay true to their fans and to themselves. This new album is a testament to that.

The album is available now, and I highly recommend it. It's a must-have for any Grateful Dead fan, and it's a great addition to any collection.

Brandeis Stops Dalton, Rams

by Paul Doaztter

Although Brandeis was a slight favorite in the opening round match, the Rams played with the determination and skill that they have come to be known for. With the game tied at 14-14 in the fourth quarter, Brandeis mounted a strong rebound, maintaining control and scoring 6-0 to take the lead 20-14. The Rams then held tight, yet in the final seconds Brandeis made a final push, securing the win with a final score of 21-14. The Rams were victorious in their season opener.

The Journal’s NHL Awards

by Joseph Dean

The Journal’s NHL Awards were announced this week. Aces Lose, the team that has been performing consistently well this season, took home the mantle of the winners. TheAces Lose, the team that has been performing consistently well this season, took home the mantle of the winners. The award-winning team is made up of skilled players from various schools and regions, forming a dynamic and exciting team. They have proven their mettle throughout the season, and their success is well-deserved.

Let’s Talk Sports

Some final tidbits and a look back

by Mark McKe

For the final week of the season, coach Mike Collins, coach of the Aces Lose, had a few last-minute decisions to make. With the team leading 21-14 against Dalton, Aces Lose had a chance to solidify their lead. However, coach Collins decided to give some of the younger players a chance, leading to a bit of an unglamorous end to their season. But the team remained confident, knowing they had played their best throughout the season.

Tennis

With the weather warming up, the tennis courts will soon be buzzing with activity. Coach Mike, who is excited about the upcoming season, has high expectations for his team. The team will be looking to improve on last year’s successful season, and with a new group of young talent, they are set to make a mark.

Breaker Bowl

The Breaker Bowl was held on Saturday night, with the Rams taking on the Breakers in a hard-fought battle. Despite the close score, the Rams emerged victorious, capturing the Breaker Bowl title and securing their place among the top teams in the league. The Breaker Bowl is always a highlight of the season, and the Rams proved once again why they are a force to be reckoned with.

WILL YOU BE 1 OUT OF 2500 PART-TIME STUDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE EDSA END OF THE YEAR CELEBRATION?

Given that it has been a long, hard year for all of us, EDSA feels it is only fitting to provide you with an end of the year celebration. This celebration, to be held at the 51 Restaurant on Friday Evening, June 3, 1983 promises to provide you with the opportunity to:

- Socialize with your fellow evening travelers, as well as with members of the faculty, administration and the Board of Trustees.
- Enjoy a feast of chicken cordon bleu, complete with all the trimmings;
- Kick off your shoes and dance the night away with a live band; and
- Applaud your peers who will be recognized for their achievements at Suffolk.

All this is being made available to you for the very reasonable price of $10.00 per person.

So, gather up your classmates and family, whom you never have enough time to socialize with, and give yourself some credit, come wine and dine with EDSA at our SPRING DINNER PARTY.

Details on how you can take part in this celebration will be forwarded to you by mail.
