Faculty members advise black, international students

By Todd Markiewicz

Faculty members advise black, international students that they work with and that their classes are not always easy.

"The reality of college life is often different from what students expect," said Professor Josephine Duchau, assistant professor of international studies. "They have high expectations of the college experience, but when they realize the reality of college life, they may feel overwhelmed." Dhau added that the pressure of being a minority student can be challenging.

"When students come from different backgrounds, they may face cultural differences and language barriers that can make it difficult to adjust," Dhau said. "It's important for them to find support systems and seek guidance when needed." Dhau added that the college provides resources and support services to help students transition into college life.

"The goal is to help students navigate the challenges of college life and to support their academic and personal growth," Dhau said.

New hockey coach likes what he sees

"I'm excited about the potential of this team," said new hockey coach John Dingwall. "We have a group of skilled players with a lot of potential for success." Dingwall added that the team has a strong foundation and that he is looking forward to building on that foundation.

"I'm impressed with the work ethic and dedication of these players," Dingwall said. "They have a strong work ethic and are committed to improving their game." Dingwall added that he is looking forward to working with the players and helping them reach their full potential.

"I'm excited to be part of this team," said senior forward Michael Johnson. "I've been looking forward to this opportunity for a long time." Johnson added that he is ready to lead the team and help them achieve their goals.

"I'm looking forward to playing with these guys," said junior defenceman Alex Smith. "They have a lot of talent and I think we can be successful this season." Smith added that he is excited to contribute to the team's success.

"I'm happy to have this opportunity," said freshman goaltender Sarah Brown. "I've been working hard to improve my game and I'm ready to take on this challenge." Brown added that she is excited to contribute to the team's success.

"I think we have a good chance of having a successful season," Dingwall said. "But it's important for us to stay focused and work hard to achieve our goals." Dingwall added that he is looking forward to the challenges of the season and to working with his players to reach their full potential.

At SGA meeting

Hall is ombudsperson

by Ann Thompson

Although Hall was accepted as our ambassador for the Student Senate for the Fall, 1985, he also ran for chairman, winning Hall against incumbent, D. E. Bishop, and receiving 83% of the vote.

Stacie Van Pelt, former Freshmen Rep., was the only candidate who was present at the meeting. She had been appointed by the Student Senate to replace Hall in the SGA position.

At the SGA meeting, Hall was presented with a certificate of recognition, which he had received from the Student Senate. He also received a certificate of appreciation from the Student Senate, which he had received for his service as a member of the Student Senate.

The SGA meeting was held in the Student Union, and was attended by members of the Student Senate and other students.

THE COPY CENTER HAS MOVED

The Suffolk University Copy Center has moved to a new location in the Lila Library, on the 4th floor of the Donahue Building. We hope that our new quarters will enable us to improve our services and serve the community in a more convenient location.

ARTS & MUSIC

Rumble Fish: Hinton’s words, Coppola’s images

Rumors are swirling of a new film. Barry Levinson shot a new film last year (in 1979). Whether it will ever be completed is unknown, but Coppola is planning to release the film, Rumble Fish. Coppola and Hinton say the film will be ready this fall.

Experimental theater comes to Suffolk

Suffolk students will be treated to something special this fall. The Experimental Theater of Boston is coming to Suffolk University on November 6. The company's production, the premiere of Plays by the American Theatre, will be performed in the Suffolk University auditorium. The play, which is a collection of one-act plays written by American playwrights, will be directed and produced by the American Theatre. The performance will be a unique opportunity for Suffolk students to experience a diversity of American theatre.
