

Suffolk University

Digital Collections @ Suffolk

Suffolk Journal

Suffolk University Student Newspapers

1990

Suffolk Journal, Vol. 49, No. 6, 12/11/1990

Suffolk Journal

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal>

Recommended Citation

Suffolk Journal, "Suffolk Journal, Vol. 49, No. 6, 12/11/1990" (1990). Suffolk Journal. 909.
<https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal/909>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Student Newspapers at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk Journal by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.

The Suffolk Journal

Volume 49, Number 6

Tuesday, December 11, 1990

First shot: Coach Jim Nelson in Suffolk's new gym

PHOTO BY JOHN GILLODY

Suffolk's first gymnasium nears completion

Suffolk University's first gymnasium ever is nearing completion and with the basketball hoops and backboards in place, Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach Jim Nelson took the first shot and as you can see it swished through.

The next step of the project will be putting down the wooden flooring for the court.

For some 45 years, Suffolk basketball teams have had to play in rented facilities but come late January of 1991 the Rams will be playing home games in this new facility on Cambridge Street close to the Beacon Hill campus. In addition to this below-ground gymnasium, the $10 million project calls for a bookstore, recreation rooms and student services offices in the four-story building.

"Cultural Unity Week" planned for Spring

Several Suffolk organizations are planning a "Cultural Unity Week" to celebrate the various ethnic and cultural backgrounds present on campus. The celebration is scheduled for January 25 through February 1.

"Cultural Unity Week" will highlight Suffolk's appreciation for all cultures in the university. Tentatively, the events of the week will include a fashion show, readings of literature from the various cultures and backgrounds, a faculty day, room to room representations of cultures, backgrounds, promotion of cultural, ethnic and religious signs, symbols, colors, and music, and "International Experiences Opportunity Day" sponsored by the Inter Cultural Committee, and an "Expressing / Appreciating the Spectrum of our Backgrounds" program. The week will be ended with a dance.

Membership to the Cultural Unity Committee is open to anyone interested in helping plan the Cultural Unity Week. Current members of the committee include: Rachelle Tayag (S.O.A.R.), James Christian (B.S.U.), Karen Mungal (International Students Association), Charles Kaufman (Hillel Club), David So (Asian American Association), and Wilma Arguineoni (S.U.H.A.)

Carter resigns from S.G.A.

by Lawrence Walsh

As expected, Junior Representative Jason Carter resigned from his seat on the Student Government Association. Carter, who had been under investigation by the Student Judiciary Review Board for violating SGA attendance policy, submitted his letter of resignation to the SGA legislative body by a fellow Junior Representative on November 20, 1990.

The current policy of the Student Government Association is that no member may miss two consecutive meetings unexcused or no more than three meetings per semester. Although the attendance policy does not stipulate any guidelines for removal because of bad attendance, the SGA constitution does have removal procedures for failure to discharge duties. It was this charge that the SJRB was to sit and recommend on removal of Jason Carter, since he has had seven unexcused absences out of the eleven mandatory meetings of the SGA.

In his letter, Carter stated that he was resigning because of his acceptance of an internship in Washington D.C. in the spring and to ensure a fair election would be held to fill his seat to prevent an unfair appointment by the executive board.

Carter's letter of resignation was read in its entirety to the SGA by Mark Chefro. The letter was highly critical of the SGA as a whole and of its leadership, particularly President Lisa Masciarelli.

In Carter's opinion, he stated in the letter, "SGA has become more concerned with petty issues such as motion cards, proper parliamentary procedures, seating arrangements and 'cutsie' little name plates rather than dealing with serious issues which affect the student body."

When he referred to the leadership of the SGA, he said that the decisions of the SGA were made by a few and dictated to the rest. He accused Masciarelli of trying to tell the LUAC committee what issues to follow this year, attempting to instruct him on proper conduct for an SGA member, withholding information from SGA members, and forcing Joe Cawley into preparing the bogus listing of SGA goals which only reflected the functions of the various committees. He concluded the criticisms with a simple statement of, "Maybe when power changes over, SGA will again serve its purpose and most of all it will be fun again."

Carter, in the letter, also admitted to having a personality conflict with the members of the Executive Board.

"I feel if [the Executive Board] came down off their pompous high horse, were more genuine with everyone and did not act on their own self interest, such a conflict would not exist," he said.

After a brief discussion of the resignation, the SGA took a symbolic vote of acceptance of the resignation of Carter. According to the provisions in the SGA constitution, no vote of acceptance is necessary. Consequently, two members abstained from the vote because it was unnecessary.

In the wake of the Carter controversy, SGA Vice-President Nista Kapelos announced that the SJRB would be investigating violations of the constitution by other members. It was her opinion that if a person ran for an office in SGA, then they should be giving full effort to comply with the rules of the SGA. She also stated that attendance was becoming a problem.

Although Kapelos did not indicate which other members may be in violation of the attendance policy and the constitution, a review of the SGA minutes reveals that five of the twenty-four SGA members have missed at least two meetings. Additionally, the records indicate that of those five, two of the members have missed two consecutive meetings. The minutes of the SGA do not show whether a member was excused for an absence or not.

Besides investigating the possible violations of SGA policy, the Student Judiciary Review Board is also in the process of reviewing new and amended constitutions of subordinate clubs and organizations.

Community tutoring project offered to Suffolk students

The Education and Human Services Department is offering an interdisciplinary course to all students for the spring semester, 1991: EHS 205: Community Tutoring Project.

The main thrust of this project is to offer students a meaningful life experience while receiving academic credit.

During the spring semester an elementary school in Boston, nationally cited for its innovation, and located near the University will be the site of the tutorial project.

Students who have participated in the project unanimously express the value of this experience:

"The last two semesters have been a world of fun and education for me. It's not always that these two concepts mesh so well." (student A)

"I feel that the opportunity to be a role model for children in a culturally diverse environment is a noble investment in the future of our urban community." (student B)

"If there was any way I could fit this course in for another semester, I definitely would. It has been one of the most positive experiences I have had at Suffolk University." (student C)

This interdisciplinary service project requires forty hours per semester of educational tutoring in a community setting in an elementary school. No previous experience required. A one hour weekly seminar at the University will complement this field experience. (Pass / Fail Grade) 1 or 2 terms—3 or 6 semester hours. Normally offered fall and spring semesters.

For further information please contact: Dr. Sheila Mahoney (Ext. 8281), or Dr. Susan Thayer (Ext. 8235).

Editorial

Letters to the Editor

S.G.A. responds

"It is a group effort"

To the Editor and Suffolk Community,

This letter is in regard to the article regarding SGA in the Suffolk Journal written by Captain Avatar. As the Executive Board of SGA we can observe that ALL the members of the Association have grown and developed skills to effectively execute their duties to the best of their abilities.

All of the members of SGA are an integral part of the organization. It is a group effort that is comprised of individual efforts. Everyone on Student Government contributes whether it may be by researching projects, talking to students, working on developing new student organizations, drafting new fiscal policies, creating a University-wide recycling effort, writing for the SGA Student Informer, attending meetings and much more. Some have commented on controversial debates during the SGA meetings. The discussions just prove that your representatives are working for you because they are questioning procedures and trying to improve student life here at Suffolk.

As an Executive Board we are proud of the work the students, advisors and members will and have contributed to SGA. The SGA is working because people are asking the right questions. All of the student community is to rest assured that the SGA is working for you!

We would also like to thank Captain Avatar for encouraging students to attend the SGA meetings held on every Tuesday. This way they can hear the issues we confront and see how we REALLY do work.

Sincerely,
SGA Executive Board
Lisa Masciarelli—President
Nitsa Kapelos—Vice-President
Jennifer Demirs—Secretary
Ron Vining—Treasurer

Setting things straight

To the Editor and the Student Body:

My response to the articles by both Larry Walsh and Captain Avatar is one of disappointment. I personally am not bothered, but I feel that an injustice has been done to both my reputation, and to the reputation of SGA and its members.

I am aware of the fact that I am the Junior Class President and Executive Board Treasurer. I am also aware that my opinions and speech are sometimes strong and somewhat domineering but to be compared to a dictatorial king is an extreme exaggeration. The fine captain stated that I control the whole show. Well, I guess he was too busy thinking up this scandal to have heard my speech asking that the SGA work together as a team. I guess he has selective hearing?

I am also disappointed that the student body is now confused and uncertain about the monetary system and those that monitor it. Well, you have Larry Walsh to thank for that with his one-sided reporting. I assure you that no misconduct has taken place during my term as Treasurer and that myself and the Finance Committee are making every attempt to straighten out this "confusion." We will be putting together a report that will be made available to the student body in order that you will know exactly what has been going on. We will also be designing, revising and implementing a new budgetary process with a manual for future Treasurers. That way there will be no "unknowns." When a question arises there will be guidelines to follow.

As your Junior Class President and SGA representative I ask that you come to me with any questions or concerns. I am always around the campus and ready to talk anytime. Remember that everyone is welcome to attend SGA meetings and I hope to see some of you there!

Sincerely,
Ron Vining

Editor's Note:

In response to the letters submitted to The Journal concerning the articles from the November 20th edition regarding the Student Government Association, the editorial staff would like to clarify a few points.

Captain Avatar is a contributing columnist to The Journal and the opinions he expresses are completely his own. His comments and characterizations of the Student Government Association's members do not reflect the actual opinion of the Suffolk Journal toward the SGA. As posted at the beginning of his column, The Journal did run a disclaimer and will continue to run the same disclaimer with all of his future contributions.

As for the articles written by The Journal's political correspondent Larry Walsh, The Journal staff stands behind his work 100%. The information published in both of Walsh's articles about the student activities budget and the proceedings with former representative Jason Carter were accurate, factual, and verified. In no reasonable way can Larry Walsh's reporting style be considered "one-sided." The response from students, faculty, and members of the Student Government Association were both complementary and laudable. It has been noted by several people on campus that Walsh's coverage of the SGA has had a positive effect in that it is making its members work harder.

As always, we wish to thank those students who took the time to comment and write to The Journal. Your opinions are always welcome.

Editorial Staff,
Suffolk Journal

If you like to write . . . you'd love the Journal.
Write for The Suffolk Journal.

Semester ending and still not registered for spring?

Enrollment for the spring semester at Suffolk is down this year. A big reason for this, which I think most of us are not taking into consideration, is the fact that most students are still waiting for their loans to come through. Many students would like to have registered but have been prevented because they are still waiting to finalize their registration. Hopefully, the university will take this into consideration before a number of the spring courses are reduced. Because in the spring many students will be quite upset if they find that they are shut out of courses due to paper work.

Editorial Note

The editorial staff of the Suffolk Journal would like to take this opportunity to clarify a point put forth in the last issue of the Evening Voice in the article entitled "Editor's Reponse." That point was: "The fact that the Journal did not thank Perry is in itself a 'critique' of his performance."

Actually, the absence of thanks (or even of a report of the resignation itself) was certainly not intended to be a "critique" of Perry's performance. We feel that it would be appropriate for us to explain why we didn't print anything.

The simple fact is that we did not believe that an article merited coverage in the pages of our publication, as it was an internal situation which we did not deem of interest to the student body. Frankly, we were quite surprised to find our situation so prominently put forth in the Evening Voice a few weeks ago.

Part of our reasoning was that the situation was "personal" to the staff of the Journal. Would the Globe or Herald print articles about things going on within the plant? Probably not.

We wish to stress that our lack of coverage was in no way a "critique" of Perry. We would also like to express our sincere wish that this situation will not turn into a point of contention between anyone involved.

Sincerely,
The Editorial Staff of
the Suffolk Journal

The Suffolk Journal
28 Derne Street
Boston, MA 02114
Room 116

The Suffolk Journal is the official newspaper of the campus community and offers the opportunity to gain practical experience in journalism and its related fields. All students, regardless of major, are invited to contribute to the production of the Journal. The views expressed in these pages are in no way meant to reflect those of the school's administration.

Editorial Board

Editor-In-Chief Heather A. Swails
Managing Editor Adam Mendonça
Feature Editor Sandra Giannato
Sports Editor Paul Ring
Photo Editor Candida Ferreira

Staff Reporters: Brian Black, Edmond Brosnan, Ivy Cifizzari, Tim Cahill, Marly Charry, Adam Freedman, Alfonso Gonzalez, Lori Rau, Lawrence Walsh

TYPESETTING BY COOL-COMP

Op-Ed

Separate is Never Equal

Opinions advocated by Captain Avatar in his columns are not necessarily the opinions advocated by the editors and staff of the Suffolk Journal.

by Captain Avatar

First things first. I've got to straighten things out from last week's article.

Now all you Freshmen pay close attention because, for the first time in my life, I'm going to actually apologize to you. Apparently, it wasn't Chris Vincenti, VP of your class that made that stupid statement ("I second that motion, baby!") in from of the entire SGA—in fact, it was your president. You see, in real politics, the Vice President says the stupid things and the President covers his ass. I keep forgetting that Freshmen have a tendency to do things backwards.

I formally apologize to Chris Vincenti. However, I had to hear about my rare mistake second hand; Ms. Vincenti never stuck up for herself. In addition, the name of the representative you Freshmen should be proud of is Tammy Cullen, and you should reelect her as soon as you become Sophomores. Don't wait until you're Juniors.

Well, that ends that crap. Now, I can start with my column.

This week, I want to take issue with Suffolk's version of separatists. That's right, separatists. Do you belong to any student union on campus (by the way, WHAT CAMPUS?!?!?) or any specific student association with a nationality attached to it? If you answered yes, then you are a separatist.

What the hell do we need all these student unions and associations for? I mean, we have a Black Student Union, an Asian Association, a Hispanic Association, an International Students Association, and God only knows what other proposals for student unions we have. Last year, there was a big stink about a new student union being launched. It was called the White Student Union (I didn't support it, but that's not the point). Who was the number one group opposing the White Student Union? The Black Student Union, of course. Why? It beats me. But I guarantee you, I'll be called a racist (among other lovely adjectives) because I'm bringing this simple fact to your attention.

Look, my only beef with the student unions and associations is this; why can't Suffolk have one student union whose only membership requirement is that you must attend Suffolk University full or part time? Wouldn't that make Suffolk a truly non-racist, unified university? The identity of current student unions and associations would not be lost because you could still have events that are aimed at a particular nationality. For example, there'll still be a Black Awareness Month, an Asian-American Awareness Week, a Hispanic Day, an International Students Hour, etc. The only difference is that you would be working under the unity of one student union.

HOLIDAY CARNIVAL

December 20, 1990

9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

Tickets sold week of December 3,
10 a.m. - 2 p.m. in Sawyer Cafe
and week of December 10,
10 a.m. - 2 p.m. in SAO.

$5 Suffolk students

$6 Guest

- Tickets sold that night only to Suffolk students for $8 per ticket
- One guest per student
- Suffolk ID required at door.
Guest must show a picture ID at door.

Unfortunately, the Suffolk Student Union probably won't happen. You know why? It'll mean the current leaders of the various student unions and associations would have to give up their power as leaders (and we all know there's nothing worse than taking away a person's or group's authority over something or someone).

However, I would like to offer a solution. How about an executive committee made up of the current leaders of all the registered student unions and associations be formed. Each former student union and association will be represented on this committee. After a school year has elapsed, those leaders can change their current form of representation to a normal president, vice president, treasurer, etc. of the new, one-year-old, Suffolk Student Union!! Now, wouldn't that be great?

Remember, everybody; united we stand, divided we fall. All of us.

A letter from the editor

To the Suffolk Community:

I am writing this letter in regard to the article concerning the resignation of Professor Peary from his position as advisor to The Suffolk Journal which appeared in the last issue of The Evening Voice.

First, I believe I owe an apology to Prof. Peary for a statement I made which was inaccurate. Specifically, I stated that whenever Prof. Peary and I had an appointment, he didn't show. From my point of view, this was the case, thus my false accusation. From his point of view, I was the one who never showed up. This situation arose because I never really waited more than five minutes for Prof. Peary to show after his classes. I did not intend to make Prof. Peary appear to students and faculty as a professor who does not show up for scheduled appointments. I should not have made the assumption and apologize for doing so.

Second, the Journal staff was concerned that our loss of an advisor appeared as a major news story in the Evening Voice. We do not wish for this situation to turn into a large scale production of airing out our closet. The general fact is that Prof. Peary was dissatisfied with his position for a variety of reasons and the Journal staff was not completely happy with the advising situation. I firmly believe that the general lack of communication between the Journal and its advisor contributed to this situation a great deal.

The Journal staff is currently working to define exactly what kind of an advising situation it would like to have and is seeking a prospective advisor to replace Prof. Peary as soon as possible.

Sincerely,
Heather A. Swails
Editor, The Suffolk Journal

At the SGA

by Lisa Masciarelli
President, SGA

Even though the fall semester is coming to an end, SGA will still be working on projects over the semester break and into the Spring.

One effort that SGA is really excited about is the RECYCLING program. All around the world, corporations, government, homes and universities have been recycling cans and paper. Now Suffolk will be joining in on the campaign to Save the Earth. Tammie Cullen, Freshman Class Representative, Tony Raponi, Biology major and the Student Government LUAC-Legislative University Affairs Committee—have been researching since September on mapping out a plan to collect recyclable products. When the Suffolk community returns for the Spring Semester you will be supplied with information on how everyone can participate. The students organizing this giant project deserve to be commended for their dedication and hard work.

Attention to the Junior Class! There will be an election for an open seat of Junior Class Representative for the 1990 - 1991 school year. This seat was vacated by Jason Carter who will be interning in Washington D.C. in the Spring. Good Luck Jason! Information on the position will be available in the Student Activities Office on January 14, 1991.

Speaking of elections. Elections and Information for the 1991 - 1992 Class Officers will be made available at the beginning of the Spring Semester. More details to come!

The whole University will soon be celebrating the opening of the new Athletic Building on Cambridge Street. Many of you already have scheduled courses in there. Jim Nelson, Director of Athletics, recently came to a SGA meeting to give us an overview of the facilities available. Not only will there be a gymnasium but also nautilus equipment, rowing machines, bicycles, aerobics and much more. We all look forward to cheering on Suffolk's Athletic teams in our new gym. There has been a recommendation to have the building smoke-free but it is still being discussed. One advantage that we have over many universities is there will be no Athletic fee. See all of you there!

Things to come in the Spring are the finalized SGA Constitution, SGA fiscal policy overview, elections, recycling, SGA Student Informer, new club and organizations on campus and much more!

During this Holiday Season there will be many social programs on campus as the Christmas Tree Lighting, Holiday Ratskellar and Holiday Carnival on December 20 at the Sheraton Hotel sponsored by Program Council and Council of Presidents. Congratulations to WSFR on their extremely successful fundraiser, "Rockin' for the Homeless" on Thanksgiving Eve.

Also, Student Government would like for all of us to remember those who may not be able to have a healthy, safe and / or warm holiday season. Just remember that the holiday season is not the only time when we can aid in community projects—help is a year-round need.

Have a safe and relaxing holiday season!

See you on December 20!

News Briefs

APO leader in community service

by Tim Cahill

Community Service—it seems to be the thing of the 90's and Suffolk's only co-ed fraternity is leading the way.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity comprising the Omecron Eta Chapter. Started in 1967, APO is both fun and educational. Not only do its members enjoy a packed social life, they also sponsor worthwhile events at Suffolk and in the surrounding community.

Last year's APO events included the Monster Dash, a blood drive, donations to "Toys for Tots" and contributions to the March of Dimes and Oxfam America. Alpha Phi Omega also held a party at "Play It Again Sam's" which proved to be a great success.

This year APO has already participated in "City Year for a Day," Greater Boston's annual serve-a-thon. APO members, along with 2,000 other people, donated their time to help paint shelters, restore schools, revitalize playgrounds and to work on other community-minded projects. In addition, APO has gone to East Boston High School and painted classrooms. This year APO again contributed to Oxfam America's efforts.

On the social scene, Alpha Phi Omega sponsored a Suffolk party at "Whipper Snappers" which was sold out. APO members enjoyed a weekend in Montreal and took part in numerous conclaves in which APO chapters from all over New England were present.

Future events APO plans to participate in include the Christmas Party, the tree lighting ceremony and the Alumni Phone-a-thon. If you think you may be interested in joining APO, stop by their office, two flights up from the Student Activities Office and inquire within.

Collegians narrowly support U.S. Persian Gulf role

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (CPS)—Fifty-two percent of the nation's collegians support the U.S. military buildup in the Persian Gulf, but 65 percent of them said they would not volunteer for the armed services, a poll of students across the country revealed.

The phone survey of 2,000 students by On Campus Marketing Concepts also found that 63 percent believed the current standoff eventually will turn into a shooting war.

Meanwhile, demonstrations against the buildup unfolded at the universities of Akron and Washington, as well as Cornell and Purdue universities, among other campuses, in recent weeks.

But students at the College of Wooster in Ohio and Ball State University in Indiana are organizing special school programs for servicepeople's children and an effort to send videotaped holiday messages to soldiers.

Suffolk to send X-mas greetings to Middle East

To show its support of our soldiers who must spend their holiday season in the Middle East, Suffolk is planning on sending holiday greetings to them.

Greetings will be sent in the form of a giant Christmas card signed by Suffolk students, faculty and staff. To get your name on the card, stop by either the Sawyer lobby and cafeteria, the Student Activities Office or the Suffolk Bar Association in the Donahue building.

In addition, Suffolk will be sending a gift box to our service personnel. Those who wish to contribute small items service personnel need: batteries, personal hygiene articles, light clothing, books, puzzles, etc. Anything would be appreciated. Donations will be taken in the Sawyer lobby until December 19. Monetary contributions for the delivery of these items will be taken at the Student Activities Office.

JUST DO IT WITH PROGRAM COUNCIL

PROGRAM COUNCIL

IS LOOKING FOR NEW MEMBERS
TO PLAN THESE EXCITING EVENTS.
INTERESTED PEOPLE MAY CONTACT WAYNE AT
STUDENT ACTIVITIES.

S.A.F.A.R.I. LOAN FOR STUDY ABROAD

The Study Abroad Committee has some S.A.F.A.R.I. loan money for study abroad during the Summer 1991 and the academic year 1991-92. Any students who wish to apply for a loan to study abroad can call Dr. Chiasson at ext. 8674 and make an appointment to see him in Fenton 440 for an interview. Thank you.

EMERGENCY COALITION FOR PEACE, JUSTICE, AND NON-INTERVENTION IN THE MIDDLE EAST

A New England-wide march and rally against war in the Persian Gulf will be held on Saturday, December 1st at 1 p.m. in Copley Square, with a march to the Boston Common following at 2:30, following nationally known speakers and live music. For more information, call 661-8066.

Photo: Malysko

When times are tough, it can be even tougher to fight the battle against cancer.

Last year, your contributions enabled thousands to beat cancer. This year, we'll need your help more than ever. As our partner in education and fund raising, the American Cancer Society helps people fight cancer through a balanced program of research, education, patient services and rehabilitation. It's a tough battle, but with your help we can keep on fighting.

United Way of Massachusetts Bay. (617) 482-8370. For answers to your questions about cancer, call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345.

Send Holiday Greetings to The Middle East from DEC. 11-19

in

Sawyer Lobby & Cafeteria
Student Activities Office
Suffolk Bar Association/
Donahue Building

Bring greetings, books, puzzles, batteries, light clothing, etc.

or

Monetary Contributions to the
Student Activities Office

GIVE US $20, AND WE'LL GIVE YOU THE RUNS.

$20 MID-WEEK LIFT TICKET.*

Mount Snow, Vermont is giving all you college students a run for your money. In fact, we're giving you all 84 runs—everything from our six new Sunbrook intermediate trails to the North Face expert terrain. And all for $20. Firm.

For a taped ski report, call (802) 464-2151. For more information, call (802) 464-8501.

Mount Snow®

When It Comes To Big Mountain Skiing, No One Else Is Close.

*Offer good Monday through Friday, non-holiday with a current college ID. © Mount Snow Ltd. 1990

Arts & Entertainment

Boston Ballet presents "The Nutcracker"

Boston Ballet celebrates the holiday season in New England with the magic of The Nutcracker at The Wang Center for the Performing Arts in Boston, Massachusetts, November 23 through December 30, 1990. With an audience of more than 150,000 people, Boston Ballet's production of The Nutcracker is the most popular in the world.

The Company will stage 48 performances of The Nutcracker, including three matinees exclusively for school-children. Featuring the familiar Tchaikovsky score, fairy tale scenery by Helen Senn and Herbert Pon d, and stunning costumes by British designer David Walker, The Nutcracker is yuletide entertainment for the whole family. Boston Ballet's production of The Nutcracker is sponsored in part by Filene's.

With a full orchestra and more than 250 performers, including members of Boston Ballet, Boston Ballet II, and Boston Ballet School students, ages 7-14 from the New England area, the annual Nutcracker performances feature the traditional "on-stage" snowfall, the breathtaking Christmas tree that grows 45 feet high, the enchanting Palace of Sweets, and the celebrated Nutcracker himself.

Traditionally, children have been a vital part of The Nutcracker and this year there will be more than 200 young people participating in the Company's production. They will perform in such roles as toy soldiers, baby mice, party children, reindeer, polichinelles, angels, and baby lambs. Auditions for these highly coveted roles were held on September 22 and 23.

In conjunction with The Nutcracker, several other special events and performances will be held. Several hundred hearing- and visually-impaired children will be guests of the Company at the fourth annual special need dress rehearsal on November 29. The annual spectacular Nutcracker Ball will also be held on November 29. The official media opening for The Nutcracker will also take place on November 29. Senior Citizen Matinees will be held on December 19 and 27. Special Student Noon Matinee performances will be held on November 28, December 5 and 7. During the entire run of The Nutcracker, The Ritz-Carlton, Boston, will offer an elegant Nutcracker Suite Retreat package. Reservations can be made by calling The Ritz-Carlton at 1-800-241-3333.

Based upon the fairy tale by E.T.A. Hoffman, The Nutcracker is a classic ballet in two acts. The story begins in the Silberhaus home where preparation for a Christmas Eve celebration are underway and the children, Fritz and Clara, eagerly await the holiday festivities. Their godfather, Dr. Drosselmeyer, arrives and presents Clara with a nutcracker. Jealous of his sister's present, Fritz seizes it and throws it to the ground, breaking the new toy. Dr. Drosselmeyer comforts Clara by mending the broken nutcracker.

Later that night, long after everyone has gone to bed, Clara steals down to the drawing room to retrieve her nutcracker. Suddenly, the room is filled with mice and toy soldiers led by the Nutcracker himself. A battle ensues, and with Clara's help, the soldiers defeat the mice. The Nutcracker is transformed into a handsome young prince who leads Clara to the Enchanted Forest where they meet the Snow King and Queen.

Clara and the Nutcracker arrive in a magical balloon at the Palace of Sweets, where they are greeted by the Sugarplum Fairy. An elaborate ceremony is held in Clara's honor, and she is entertained by a number of exotic dances. A shimmering pas de deux by the Sugarplum Fairy and her Cavalier brings the entertainment to a spectacular climax and marks a memorable end to Clara's magical journey.

The Nutcracker was first choreographed in 1892 by Marius Petipa and Lev Ivanov. Petipa, choreographer to the Russian court during the latter half of the 19th century, is the man who single-handedly raised the standard of Russian ballet to the level we know today. His many works include the romantic masterpieces Swan Lake and The Sleeping Beauty. Ivanov, too, had a long career at the Maryinsky Theater and today is considered a major precursor of modern ballet, literally and figuratively bridging the gap between the romanticism of Petipa and the vivid expressionism of Fokine. Boston Ballet's first Nutcracker production was in December of 1964, staged by Company Founder E. Virginia Williams after the original Ivanov-Petipa choreography.

Tickets for The Nutcracker are available by calling TICKETMASTER at 931-2000 or in person at The Wang Center Box Office, 270 Tremont Street, Boston, Massachusetts, Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Ticket prices are $49, $39, $33, $25, and $17 for weekend performances and $44, $34, $29, $21, and $15 for all other performances. All prices include a $.75 Wang Center Restoration Fee. Group sales are available and may be purchased at a discount.

Curtain times: Sunday Evenings—6:30 p.m.; All Other Evenings—7:30 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday Matinees—2:00 p.m.

Boston Ballet is supported in part by the National Arts Stabilization Fund in conjunction with the Greater Boston Arts Fund, the National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities, and The Massachusetts Cultural Council.

The Pogues' "Hell's Ditch"

by Edmond Brosnan

The Pogues' new album consists mostly of their traditional Irish-music inspired pop, but also shows off their diversity.

The eight-man Irish/English group slips farther away from Irish music with each album.

Shane MacGowan's voice doesn't really fit the pop music, but he pulls it off well.

MacGowan does the lead vocals on all but four of the songs. Terry Woods sings two songs, Spider Stacy sings one, and there is one instrumental.

The diversity on the album shows the maturity of the group. They can easily switch from one style of music to another.

"The Sunnyside of the Street" and "Sayonara" are Irish-influenced songs, but then "Lorca's Novena" has a Spanish influence.

They even try a ballad in "Summer in Siam" with MacGowan's voice sounding fair.

"Rainbow Man" sounds a bit like early U2, while "House of the Gods" is a Beach Boys-esque pop song.

"Six to Go" is a folk anthem which takes up the cause of the Birmingham Six—a group of Irish nationals who have been wrongly imprisoned in England for over 15 years.

The album is produced by Joe Strummer, the former lead singer of The Clash. Strummer starred with The Pogues in the 1987 movie, "Straight to Hell."

He also played guitar for them a few years ago when one of the members of the group broke his hand.

"Hell's Ditch" is a good follow-up to last year's "Peace and Love," but it comes nowhere near efforts such as "Red Roses for Me," which featured more of a traditional Irish sound.

The Christmas Revels celebrate Winter Solstice

The Christmas Revels, celebrating its 20th Anniversary Season at Harvard University's Sanders Theater, will present 16 performances of a special Russian and American Christmas Revels with guest artists, the Dmitri Pokrovsky Ensemble, beginning Friday, December 14th.

The Christmas Revels, Cambridge's annual "Celebration of the Winter Solstice," will feature traditional music, carols, folktales, dance and processions from both Russia and America in this very special presentation. Welcoming the audience in with carols will be the Revels Chorus and The Cambridge Symphonic Brass Ensemble. Performing the American material with the Revels Chorus will be Cambridge's own Stan Strickland, and gospel singer Janice Allen. Music to be performed ranges from the lyrical Shaker hymn, "I Will Bow and be Simple"—featuring Russian and American casts—and the strong gospel sound of "Go, Tell it on the Mountain" and "Mary Had a Baby."

Sharing the music and songs of the Russian people is The Dmitri Pokrovsky Ensemble, an eleven-member performance troupe from Moscow. The smash hits of Sarah Caldwell's 1988 "Making Music Together" cultural exchange with the Soviet Union, The Pokrovsky Ensemble will present traditional Russian music and folktales, winter songs and processions. Much of the traditional material presented had been lost for decades until Dmitri Pokrovsky and his Ensemble reclaimed them in their travels through remote Russian villages and towns. In 1988, Dmitri Pokrovsky was presented with The Government Award by Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev for artistic excellence and for his invaluable work as a music historian and revivalist of traditional Russian material.

"Father Christmas" will return in an Appalachian Mummies' Play (adapted for Revels by Susan Cooper) and The Dmitri Pokrovsky Ensemble will perform a Russian Mummies' Play featuring "Tsar Maximillian."

As in every Revels production, the audience takes part. There'll be familiar carols and rounds to sing—in English and in Russian—and everyone in the theater will be invited to join the cast—Russians and Americans alike—in the rousing "Lord of the Dance" recessional into the lobby.

This special Russian and American production is a collaboration between Revels Artistic Director John Langstaff and Dmitri Pokrovsky. The production staff includes Patrick Swanson, stage director; Lynne Wyluda Beasley, producer; George Emlen, music director; and Craig Sonnenberg, costume designer.

The Russian and American Christmas Revels will be performed December 14-16, 20-23 and 27-29 at 8:00 p.m., with additional 3:00 p.m. matinee performances on December 15, 16, 22, 23, 29 and 30.

Tickets for The Christmas Revels can be charged by phone through Ticketmaster at (617) 931-2000 and are available at all Ticketmaster outlets and at Bostix.

Ticket prices are as follows: Adults: $20.00, $15.50, and $10.50. Srs. and Children under 12: $15.50, $12.50, and $7.50.

Performances are at Harvard University's Sanders Theater, on the corner of Kirkland and Quincy Streets in Cambridge. For more information call (617) 621-0505.

The Christmas Revels is presented by Revels, Inc., a non-profit arts organization founded to promote public education and appreciation of traditional music, dance, drama, poetry and processions from diverse cultures all over the globe. This winter, Christmas Revels productions will be presented in six cities across the United States: Cambridge, New York City, Philadelphia, Oakland, CA, Hanover, NH and Washington, DC.

The Christmas Revels is made possible, in part, by funding from the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

[SPECIAL NOTE: This season, Revels is working on a food drive in conjunction with the Cambridge Food Pantry Network, a non-profit organization that distributes food to the needy. Revels asks everyone attending a performance to please bring along a can of nonperishable food.]

Japanese student finds new home in U.S.

by Sandra Giannato

Suffolk's mentor program, which was instigated this year for the benefit of international students, has truly been a success in the lives of mentor Peter Currie and international student Mayumi Hoshi.

Hoshi, whose name means "Truly Original Beauty" (Mayumi), "Star in the Sky" (Hoshi), is a first semester law student here at Suffolk. Hailing from Tokyo, Japan, Hoshi plans to obtain her law degree then hopefully work here in Boston.

Peter Currie, her mentor, is a sociology major in his senior year here at Suffolk. Currie lives in Waltham and is a paperboy for the Boston Globe. He is also a tutor at Suffolk's Belotti Learning Center.

"When I first got the letter about the mentor program, I liked it. From working in the Learning Center I have been able to meet different groups of people. And now with the mentor program I can also sit down on a one-to-one basis and learn about different cultures. I find that in any dialog there is learning," said Currie.

Currie has learned from Hoshi that Japan is greatly influenced by western culture. Baseball is a very big sport there, and contrary to popular belief, Americans are "put on pedestals."

It's not unusual, Hoshi noted, for a group of Japanese students to follow visiting westerners around to observe how they dress and act. Japanese are taught that the western culture is the it thing. Music is mostly western type, and English is taught beginning in the seventh grade, along with Western History. Traditional Japan can only be found further away from the city.

Hoshi found Boston easy to get used to because it's similar to Tokyo with its theaters, shopping, and cultural influence.

"But I do find that I don't feel safe on the streets in Boston compared to Tokyo, and that Boston has a lot less traffic than Tokyo. So much so that people prefer to take trains which are very crowded rather than fight the city commute," she said.

One thing Hoshi is surprised at in the U.S. are the large supermarkets with such a varied selection.

Hoshi finds "Japanese students are more mature in junior high school than U.S. students, but then in college it's just the opposite." Japanese students must decide what field they are going into by junior high school. Academically, the schools are definitely more demanding in the lower grades. On the other hand, Hoshi pointed out, colleges are harder in the United States.

Hoshi likes the U.S. because "you can have a second chance to choose a career. In Japan, when you pick a career, you're stuck with it. You must stay with it, for if you quit, you cannot find work in any other field. What I like about the U.S. is that you can go to school at any age if you want a career change."

Mayumi Hoshi with mentor Peter Currie

PHOTO BY SANDRA GIANNATO

Hoshi likes the mentor program very much and was happy that it started early in the year.

"It made me feel secure. I knew that someone was there when I needed advice for anything."

Both Currie and Hoshi urge Suffolk students to become a part of the mentor program.

SENIORS...

Don't miss your last chance for

SENIOR PORTRAITS

January 23-25, 1991

Look for appointment cards in early January.

Happy Holidays from Beacon!

BECOME A PART OF "CULTURAL UNITY WEEK"

Scheduled for January 25 through February 1, 1991

An event to celebrate ALL nationalities, cultures, and religions is in the planning process

NEEDED:

promoters/public relations readers performers artists ideas

CONTACT:

Rachelle Tayag or Laura Piscopo
leave message at Student Activities x8320 or at S.O.A.R. mailbox in SAC

PRE-CHANNUKAH Menorah Candle Lighting

Student Activities Center

Front Lounge

12:00 Noon

Wednesday, Dec. 5th

Refreshments will be served

Sponsored by: Hillel and Student Activities Office

Students may compete for fewer, smaller Pell Grants

(CPS)—Students may find themselves competing for fewer, smaller Pell Grants for the 1991-1992 school year, thanks to a possible $145 million shortfall in funding for the program, the U.S. Department of Education has confirmed.

The shortfall, if it occurs, would come as the result of a last-minute funding cut made during the 1991-92 federal budget negotiations, which Congress finished Oct. 27.

Legislators approved a $100 increase in the maximum Pell Grant—bringing it to $2,400—an initially appropriated $5.3 billion for new grants.

But at the last minute, 2.41 percent was cut from most discretionary programs, including the Pell Grant program.

To save the money, the Education Department, depending on changes in national enrollment and economic conditions when it needs to take action next February, might implement a "linear reduction," said a department official who didn't want to be named.

In plainer terms, about 71,000 students nationwide would have their grants cut by $225.

Another 1.22 million grants would be trimmed by about $100.

The cuts wouldn't affect 2.2 million of the neediest students who, because of the $100 increase, would receive bigger grants, the official said.

In all, 3.37 million students would get average grants of $1,495 in 1991-92, down from the 3.44 million students receiving grants averaging $1,504 this year.

"We're talking about a $9 difference" for the students who still get grants, the Education Department official said.

A Tax Problem

By all accounts, this is one of the most dire years on record in terms of state funding of higher education.

The rate of increase in state support for higher education is at a 30-year low, according to a mid-October study by the Center for Higher Education at Illinois State University.

States will spend $40.8 billion in 1990-1991, 11.6 percent more than they did two years ago. It's barely enough to keep up with inflation, the study found.

Many state legislatures, hurt by slowing sales tax revenues, lower-than-expected income tax receipts and slow economic growth, don't have as much money to allocate as they'd anticipated.

In addition to price hikes, many campuses are drastically cutting services.

The SUNY system, for example, in mid-November put an immediate freeze on all sorts of transactions, including most out-of-state travel, all in-state travel, equipment purchases, contracts for any outside services and the filling of any permanent or temporary position.

If anything, emergency price hikes often help send a message to the public and state legislators about the situation in higher education, Novak said.

In Illinois, he said, wildly unpopular budget cuts that forced mid-year tuition hikes two years ago prompted state legislators to implement a temporary increase in the state income tax. The new tax in turn amounted to a 22-percent two-year rise in state support for higher education.

The mid-year price hike, Novak said, "definitely played a part."

campuses $50 per semester for health services.

And in late September, University of Buffalo students got a new mandatory $50 per semester fee to ride buses the three miles between the north and south campuses.

Public campuses in Virginia were the first to announce mid-year tuition hikes, hoping to plug a $1.4 billion hole in their two-year budget.

The price hikes in Massachusetts were emergency measures, maintained Peter Chisholm of the state's Board of Regents.

Over the last three years, he noted, state funding for higher education there has dropped by $160 - $170 million. This year across-the-board cuts, coupled with budget revisions, have left the state's 29 campuses with a $50 million shortfall.

"Only in the most dire situations do they occur," said Novak of the price hikes.

Mid-year price hikes eminent

(CPS)—Students will be paying higher prices for classes, some as soon as next month, various campuses have announced.

The funding emergencies that have crippled states across the country have forced a number of campuses to impose unusual tuition hikes.

As a result, hundreds of thousands of students will be writing bigger tuition checks for spring term than they wrote for fall term.

Massachusetts students will take the biggest hit, paying as much as $625 more for spring semester at most of the commonwealth's public campuses. It could have been worse. Voters Nov. 6 defeated a proposal that would have rolled back all taxes and fees back to 1988 levels.

In New York, North Carolina, California and Virginia, students at some campuses will pay more this spring in the form of emergency fees, tuition increases or special "user" fees for anything from health care to the right to use computer labs.

Additionally, students at the University of North Dakota, St. Cloud State University in Minnesota, Loyola University in New Orleans and the University of California-Davis could end up paying more this spring for various services.

"There's going to be some [more] for sure," declared Richard Novak of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, a Washington, D.C.-based group.

Many students, however, resent the increases, saying they've been unfairly targeted.

"Every time we pay more, we don't get anything back," complained Massachusetts College of Arts student Kirsten Friar.

Others say the campuses should trim the budget by cutting jobs of high-paid administrators.

(continued on page 10)

HEY,
You!

YAH,
You! The one reading the paper.

Do blank
empty spots like this one bother you?

They do?!

Well,
here's your chance to help fill this space!

How, you ask?

Simple....

Join the Staff!....

The Suffolk Journal

You can handle this package.

At United Parcel Service we give you the flexibility of a part-time job with the benefits of full-time work.

We know students keep busy schedules. That's why our 3-5 hour part-time shifts have been designed to fit your needs.

We also know that students demand more than an hourly wage. So in addition to paying $8-9 an hour, we provide health benefits, profit sharing plans, student loans, and paid vacations (including 10 paid holidays).

PACKAGE HANDLER BENEFITS

$8-9 AN HOUR TO START

FULL BENEFITS FOR PART-TIME WORK

POTENTIAL PROMOTION TO SUPERVISORY POSITION, BEFORE GRADUATION

A STUDENT LOAN PROGRAM WHICH ALLOWS YOU TO BORROW UP TO $25,000 EACH YEAR.

UP TO $2,000 PER SEMESTER IN TUITION REIMBURSEMENT

Also, UPSers working part time on selected shifts at our Norwood facility are eligible for tuition reimbursement.

For more information contact your Student Employment Office or call us at (617) 461-5700.

UPS LOCATIONS

NORWOOD
1045 UNIVERSITY AVENUE

WATERTOWN
15 ARLINGTON STREET

BROCKTON
200 OAKHILL WAY

UPS ALSO HAS LOCATIONS ON THE CAPE AND RHODE ISLAND

WORKING FOR STUDENTS WHO WORK FOR US
UPS DELIVERS EDUCATION

UPS IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER, M/F

ATTENTION ALL EVENING AND/OR PART-TIME STUDENTS

EDSA is now recruiting new members for its board.

Check us out at our next meeting on
December 14, 1990.
5:30 p.m. in S521.

BOSTON BALLET
Bruce Marks, Artistic Director

The Source

Weekly Calendar of Events

DECEMBER UPCOMING EVENTS

December 10, 11 & 12, 1990

Evening Division Student	Fenton/Sawyer	4:30 p.m.
Association Sponsors Coffee Breaks	Lobbies

Friday, December 14, 1990

Evening Division Student	Sawyer 521	5:30 p.m.
Association Meeting

Thursday, December 20, 1990

Program Council Sponsors A Holiday Party. Tickets purchased in advance cost:	Sheraton, Boston	9:00 - 1:00 p.m.
$5.00 for Suffolk Student with ID.
$6.00 for Guest

NO GUEST TICKET WILL BE SOLD AT DOOR!!!!

Tickets purchased on the Night of the Party Cost: $7.00

The Student Activities Office extends best wishes for the upcoming holiday seasons and A safe and prosperous year!!

Happy Holidays

World press photo exhibit at BP2

"Eyewitness: World Press Photo Exhibition 1990," an exhibition of photographs by some of the world's most renowned photojournalists, will be on display at the Boston Public Library in Copley Square through January 2nd.

The 33rd annual competition sponsored by the World Press Photo Foundation in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, documents one of the most dynamic news years in the history of photojournalism and attracted 1,280 newspaper, magazine, and press agency photographers representing 64 countries. The first competition in 1956 drew 42 photographers from 11 countries.

The 130 award-winning photographs in this year's exhibit document major events, personalities, trends, and issues of 1989 and were selected from more than 11,000 entries in nine categories, including spot news, sports, nature, and science and technology.

A color photograph taken by American photographer Charlie Cole for Newsweek Magazine was selected as the "1989 Press Photo of the Year" by an international jury of distinguished publishers, photographers, editors, writers, and art directors from nine countries. Entitled "Of Flesh and Steel," the Premier Award photo depicts a lone Chinese demonstrator confronting a column of armored tanks during the 1989 demonstrations in Tiananmen Square.

Other dramatic photos include West

German citizens hammering away at the Berlin Wall, Islamic mourners expressing grief during Khomeini's funeral, and oil-covered wildlife drifting toward the Alaska shores in the aftermath of the Exxon oil spill.

The exhibit is free and open to the public in the Great Hall of the Central Library in Copley Square beginning December 4th from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Hike (continued from page 8)

"It's really obvious there is a lot of fat at the administrative level," said David Topitzer, a student government member at the University of Massachusetts-Boston, whose spring tuition bill is up $400 over fall's.

Following a "temporary legislative surcharge" of $41.50 levied on all students in the University of North Carolina system, students at Appalachian State University may be hit with a $270 increase in fees for athletics, health services, student activities, student union expansion and textbook rental.

Similarly, students at the State University of New York system may have to pay $50 - $100 more next semester.

The tuition hike would help offset an anticipated cut in funds as the state tries to reduce spending to close a growing budget gap.

Earlier this fall SUNY trustees decided to charge students at 26 of the system's 34

HOLIDAY EVENTS

HOLIDAY PARTY
Thursday, December 20th
SHERATON BOSTON
GRAND BALLROOM
9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

SUFFOLK ID OR PICTURE ID WILL BE REQUIRED TO ENTER EVENT

ONE GUEST PER STUDENT
$5.00 STUDENT / $6 GUEST

Tickets go on sale Dec. 3rd
in the Sawyer Cafeteria

ALL EVENTS SPONSORED BY PROGRAM COUNCIL

Classified Ads

INTERNSHIPS

INTERNS WANTED FOR BOSTON,
ALLSTON-BRIGHTON
AND BROOKLINE
WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS:
THE BOSTON JOURNAL,
THE ALLSTON-BRIGHTON JOURNAL
AND THE BROOKLINE JOURNAL
CALL EDITOR SCOTT ROLPH
AT 254-0334

WANTED

Addressers wanted immediately!
No experience necessary.
Excellent pay!
Work at home.

Call toll-free:

1-800-395-3283

Looking for a job? Look thru the Classifieds

FREE SPRING BREAK VACATION IN CANCUN!
COLLEGE TOURS, THE NATIONS LARGEST AND
MOST SUCCESSFUL SPRING BREAK TOUR
OPERATOR NEEDS ENTHUSIASTIC CAMPUS
REPRESENTATIVES. EARN A FREE TRIP AND CASH. NOTHING TO BUY - WE PROVIDE EVERY-THING YOU NEED. CALL BOB @ 1-800-395-4896

Cruise Ship Jobs

HIRING Men - Women. Summer/
Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS,
TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL.
Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean,
Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico.
CALL NOW! Call refundable.
1-206-736-0775, Ext. 600N

WAKE N' BAKE!

Spring Break
in Jamaica/Cameroon from $429!

Organized group
Travel free! Book early and save $30!

SUNSPASH TOURS
1-800-426-7710

FOR PURCHASE

Canada's number one selling nutritional formula available here now. FDA approved.
"You feel noticeable results" or your money cheerfully refunded.

Send self-addressed stamped envelope to
P.O. BOX 166
BOURNE STATION, MA 02532

CAMPUS REP WANTED TO RUN
SKI AND SPRING BREAK TRIPS
FOR FREE TRAVEL
OR COMMISSION.
CALL SNO-SEARCH
(413) 533-1600.

SPRING BREAK 1991

Individual or student organization needed to promote Spring Break trip.
Earn money, free trips and valuable work experience

Apply now
Inter-Campus Programs
800-327-6013

PROFESSIONAL STAFF

Catalog Librarian, Law Library - The Library is currently planning for the implementation of an automated library system in which the catalog librarian can expect to play a major role. Responsibilities include: original and copy cataloging in all formats; supervision of clerical staff; participation in policy making and automation planning and implementation. Requirements are an M.L.S., knowledge of AACR2, MARC formats, LC classifications and subject headings and OCLC, and previous cataloging experience in an academic library, preferably a law library. Experience with conversion to an automated catalog is highly desirable.

FAST FUNDRAISING PROGRAM

$1000 IN
JUST
ONE WEEK

Earn up to $1000 in one week for your campus organization.

Plus a chance at $5000 more!

This program works!
No investment needed.

Call 1-800-932-0528
Ext. 50

FOR RENT

BEACON HILL

No fee. Choice location. Newly renovated spacious 1 Bedroom apt. Second floor. Fully appliances.
Hardwood floors. Heat and hot water included.
Available 2/1. $725/mo. Call Phil Wald after 7 PM on weekdays at (603) 894-7299.

Capable driver and good conversationalist seeks ride to FLORIDA for CHRISTMAS. Will help with expenses. Flexible on dates. Please call Mike at 397-9810.

EMPLOYMENT

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Senior Library Assistant, Sawyer Library - This position is responsible for supervising OCLC computer terminal operations, including scheduling terminal use, organizing the workflow and training terminal operators. Also performs secretarial tasks for the Director of the Library, including preparing book orders and processing payment requests, and using the MacIntosh computer for maintaining budget records and for desktop publishing projects. Good typing, previous library experience and some interest in learning about library cataloging procedures required. Minimum salary is $345 per week.

Mail Clerk, Mailroom - Primary responsibilities of this position are to sort, distribute, and deliver incoming mail, post and sort outgoing mail and distribute office supplies. Position requires good organizational and human relations skills. Minimum salary is $281 per week.

Cruise Ship Jobs

HIRING Men - Women. Summer/
Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS,
TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL.
Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean,
Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico.
CALL NOW! Call refundable.
1-206-736-0775, Ext. 1255

TRAVEL FREE

Quality vacations to exotic destinations. Affordable spring break packages to Jamaica and Cancun. Free travel and $$$.

1-800-426-7710

FOR RENT

WHY RENT?

HOMES FOR $1.00, REPOS.
GOV'T GIVE AWAY PROGRAMS!
FOR INFORMATION
504-649-0670 EXT. R-8594

Office Secretary, Law Admissions/Financial Aid - This position provides secretarial assistance to the Director of Law Admissions. Duties include typing general correspondence, maintaining and processing records on an office computer, and receptionist work. Familiarity with word processing or computer data entry required, as is a desire to work in a fast paced, customer service environment. Minimum salary is $334 per week.

Part-time Registrar's Assistant - This position provides accurate and efficient information to students on the telephone and in person and is responsible for insuring that students' computer records are up-to-date. Assists in registration; and insures that students are registered for the proper courses. Along with other department staff members will answer phones and perform general office functions such as typing. Good human relations skills and experience with a CRT terminal required. Customer service orientation is essential. Work schedule is all day Monday, Tuesday and 1/2 day Wednesday. Minimum salary is $9.03 an hour.

All positions are full-time, Monday to Friday, 8:45 to 4:45 p.m. unless otherwise indicated. For more information, please call the Human Resources Office, 1 Beacon Street - 25th Floor, Boston, MA 02108, (617) 573-8415.

Sports

Suffolk skaters win shootout

by Paul Ring

One would think that a game against a team with a record of 2-3 would be an easy win for a 6-1 Suffolk team. Especially since Suffolk was looking for its sixth straight win in this young season.

As the Rams took the ice Nov. 29 against a deceptively strong Framingham State team (also nicknamed the Rams) they looked confident and ready for what they knew would be a tough game. The Suffolk skaters wasted no time in showing their guests at Walter Brown Arena exactly who was boss.

Freshman Mike Bragan from Dorchester scored on FSU goalie Carlos Souza at 1:44 in the first period with Brian Horan getting the first of his two assists. At 6:56 in the same period Suffolk was called for two penalties, giving FSU a two-man advantage for just over three minutes.

Suffolk goalkeeper Jeff Allen from Medford looked strong as he and his teammates fought off the Framingham attack. In fact there were flashes of brilliance on both ends of the ice.

Framingham's Souza saved consecutive shots by Suffolk's Darrin Gold, Brian Donahue and David Brown. On the other side, Sean Milne from Arlington (who would end this game with a goal and an assist) was forced to fight his way to the front of the net against FSU's defensemen Jim Browne and scrappy Freshman Greg O'Brien.

Also, Horan nearly scored a goal to go along with his two assists as he faked the three defensemen out of their shorts with 5:50 to play in the first period. The next goal was going to be important for FSU. If Suffolk scored, it would be tough to battle back.

With 2:21 left in the period, Suffolk's Brian Gruning took a pass from Matt Mansfield and shot it past Framingham's Souza. Milne was also credited with an assist.

The pressure shifted. Now Souza had the world squarely on his shoulders. Out-shot 19-9, Framingham would have to come out strong in the second period. With a two-goal lead, Suffolk was sure to come out ready. The question was: How ready was Framingham?

Suffolk scored twice in four minutes to apparently put the game away. Just 22 seconds into the second period, Milne scored from Mark Wall and Bob Piracini to make the score 3-0. At 4:06, John O'Toole scored from Jim Fitzgerald to break it open 4-0, right?

Wrong!

Despite the obvious nervousness of FSU's Souza, he turned in a performance that rivaled that of the first period. In fact, he would not give up another goal in this period.

Suffolk Junior Scott Cutliff was charged with a penalty at 8:26. Then, just 31 seconds into their power play, Framingham's Jeremy Barrett scored from Rob Matthews and Steve Ryan.

At this point it was clear that Suffolk was not playing up to its potential. When they should have been putting FSU away they were unable to do it. Missed shots, dumb penalties and generally poor play characterized the rest of the second period for Suffolk.

With 8:13 left in the period Framingham's Steve Morris' shot got past Allen and made the score 4-2. Next came what was to be quite a test for Suffolk's Allen. Framingham was awarded a penalty shot at 13:09 in the second.

If Allen saved the shot, FSU could just forget having a chance to win this game. However, if Allen couldn't save it, it could open the door for Framingham. It was Allen against FSU's Barrett. He had scored the first goal on Allen this evening. Could he score another?

Allen skated out. Barrett took the puck from the red line and glided toward the crease. He faked left and slid the puck under Allen's skates on the right side.

Red light.

Goal.

Suffolk knew what they had to do. They had to, "Suck it up." What does that mean? Well, it means to reach down and work that little bit harder than the other team. The score was 4-3. Suffolk looked confident, however. Maybe they could hold on to win.

The second period ended with a penalty on FSU's Barrett at 19:02. The game was tied. Okay, the score was 4-3, but for all intents and purposes, it was tied.

(continued on page 12)

Lady Rams lose to MIT

by Paul Ring

Suffolk's Lady Rams last Saturday and the men in the battle for the Alamo had one thing in common: they were both ridiculously outnumbered. Suffolk had just six of the nine on their roster able to suit up for their game against MIT. The Engineers, on the other hand, had brought 16 players to play the Lady Rams.

The 2-4 Rams were looking forward to meeting the equally mediocre Colby College White Mules. (Where did they come up with that nickname?) The last time that Suffolk had beat Colby was in 1974-1975. The White Mules had an 11-game winning streak but it looked like the Rams might be able to end it during the second game of Saturday's twin bill.

The White Mules literally shut down the Ram offense. Normally hot-handed guard John Cawley was held to a very watered-down 11 points. Only half of his average over the first six games.

Suffolk had to rely on Sophomores like Dave MacDougall (8-13 FG) and Chuck Byrne from Melrose who scored 12 points, grabbed eight rebounds and dished out 6 assists.

Despite their hard work, Suffolk lost the game 108-72. A whopping 32-point blowout. Perhaps a change of venue would be in order?

However, more incredible than even that was the score at halftime, 33-33. Maureen Brown (10 points) and Maria Gnerre (9), led a team that kept pace with MIT despite shooting 5-19 from the line.

SU hockey dumps SMU 7-3

by Edmond Brosnan

The Suffolk Rams hockey team easily defeated the Southeastern Massachusetts University Corsairs on Monday, December 3 at Walter Brown Arena.

The win brought the Rams record to 8-1.

SU was led by Brian Gruning, Matt Mansfield, Sean Milne, and Sean O'Driscoll, who each had one goal and one assist.

Jim Ignazio had a good game in net with 25 saves, bringing his record to 7-1.

The Rams dominated the game from the start with Milne scoring 14 seconds into the game. Mike Pearson got a goal two minutes later.

SMU took out their goalie, Tom Barnick, after he gave up a third goal at 11:51 of the first period. He was replaced by Sean Sullivan.,

The Corsairs looked horrible through the first half of the game. Several times they tried to pass out of their zone only to have the puck bounce off the back of one of the players' leg, with the player clueless as to where the puck was.

They did not score until 6:15 of the second period on a goal by Matt Driscoll.

They had a goal disallowed late in the first period because Scott Louder had hooked Suffolk goalie Ignazio.

SMU did better late in the second and in the third period but by that time the game was already lost.

The only bright point for SMU was that they kept SU's top scorer, Brian Horan, pointless.

The game, attended by about 100 people, was the Rams' last home game before Christmas break.

The Engineers' deceptively futile first half performance was no example of how the game would end. MIT's leaders at the half were: Showna Chang, 11 points and Cheryl Klepser (6).

MIT was within the reach for most of the second half but the Lady Rams were just too tired to get any sort of a run going. What killed Suffolk was a 3:48 drought which allowed MIT to pick up "free" points.

Everyone felt bad about losing this game. Well, at least they only lost by 22 points. Why do I say "only...22 points"? Read a little bit more but only if you have a strong stomach.

VARSITY ICE HOCKEY 1990-1991
DAY	DATE	OPPONENT	H/A	TIME
TUE.	20 NOV.	UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN ME	H	7:30 BU
SAT.	24 NOV.	WORCESTER STATE COLLEGE	H	7:00 BU
MON.	26 NOV.	ASSUMPTION COLLEGE	A	7:00
THUR.	29 NOV.	FRAMINGHAM STATE COLLEGE	H	7:45 BU
MON.	3 DEC.	SOUTHEASTERN MASS. UNIV.	H	7:30 BU
WED.	5 DEC.	FITCHBURG STATE COLLEGE	A	7:30
SAT.	8 DEC.	TRINITY COLLEGE	A
SAT.	12 JAN.	SKIDMORE INVITATIONAL TOUR.	A
SUN.	13 JAN.	SKIDMORE INVITATIONAL TOUR.	A
THUR.	17 JAN.	CONNECTICUT COLLEGE	H	8:30 BU
SAT.	19 JAN.	CHOWDER CUP TOURNAMENT
WED.	23 JAN.	CHOWDER CUP TOURNAMENT
SAT.	26 JAN.	ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE	H	1:30 BU
THUR.	31 JAN.	WEST. NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE	H	6:30 BU
SAT.	2 FEB.	ROGER WILLIAMS COLLEGE	A	5:30
TUE.	5 FEB.	MASS. INST. OF TECHNOLOGY	A	7:00
THUR.	7 FEB.	TUFTS UNIVERSITY	H	7:00 BU
MON.	11 FEB.	PLYMOUTH STATE COLLEGE	A	5:00
THUR.	13 FEB.	AMHERST COLLEGE	A	7:00
SAT.	16 FEB.	CURRY COLLEGE	A	5:00
MON.	18 FEB.	NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE	H	7:00 BU
WED.	20 FEB.	STONEHILL COLLEGE	A	6:00
Head Coach: Bill Burns Co-Captains: Brian Horan, Chris Levy Asst. Coach: Larry Burns

WOMEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL 1990-1991
Day	Date	Opponent	Time	H/A
TUE	20 Nov.	Anna Maria College	8:00	Home
MON	26 Nov.	Wentworth Institute	7:00	Away
THU	29 Nov.	Worcester State	8:00	Home
SAT	1 Dec.	MIT	1:00	Home
TUE	4 Dec.	Framingham State	6:00	Away
THU	6 Dec.	UMass - Boston	8:00	Home
WED	9 Jan.	Babson College	6:00	Away
SAT	12 Jan.	Thomas College	4:00	Away
SUN	13 Jan.	Bowdoin College	2:00	Away
TUE	15 Jan.	Wentworth Institute	8:00	Home
SAT	19 Jan.	Mt. Holyoke College	6:00	Home
WED	23 Jan.	Simmons College	7:00	Away
SAT	26 Jan.	Norwich University	1:00	Away
MON	28 Jan.	Emerson College	8:00	Home
THU	31 Jan.	Fitchburg State	8:00	Away
SAT	2 Feb.	Elms College	7:00	Home
SAT	9 Feb.	Eastern Nazarene	6:00	Away
TUE	12 Feb.	Nichols College	8:00	Home
FRI	15 Feb.	Carnegie Mellon	6:00	Home
WED	20 Feb.	Rivier College	7:00	Away
SAT	23 Feb.	U.S. Coast Guard Academy	2:00	Away
THU	28 Feb.	Regis College	8:00	Home
Head Coach: Joe Walsh Asst. Coach: Doreen Matta Captain: Laura Long

(continued from page 11)

Whoever scored the next goal would probably win this game.

I don't know what coach Burns said to his team, but if he could bottle it and sell it to the pro's he'd be a millionaire. Anyway, Suffolk wasted no time in attempting to end this game early. A power-play goal by Sean O'Driscoll (assisted by Horan) at 0:46 into the third made the score 5-3. A safe margin, but by no means comfortable.

At 1:43 Gruning launched a shot that rings off the post. Then, Michael Pearson from Cambridge got called for hooking at 3:19. Looking to make up for his last shot, Gruning fires a short-handed goal past Souza at 5:08 in the third.

FSU closed out the scoring as they scored their first and only goal of the period with 9:35 left. Framingham's Shawn McMenimen beat Allen with an assist from Kevin O'Connor.

Suffolk has three games against traditionally tough teams before breaking for the holidays. The Rams will play Southeastern Mass., Fitchburg State and Trinity College. Suffolk's record is 7-1-0, their only loss coming at the sticks of Stonehill College, 7-5.

Sports Shorts

Lady Rams open season at 1-3

The Woman's Basketball team kicked off their season with two losses at the annual tipoff tournament at Pine Manner College.

In the first game Suffolk was defeated by New England College, 65-41. The Lady Rams were down by two at the half but they couldn't pull ahead of the NEC team. Windy Rosebush scored 20 points in that game.

The next day Suffolk returned to Pine Manor and, despite playing with intensity and determination, they ended up losing to Endicott College, 54-40. Johanna McGourty led the Lady Rams with 15 points and 12 rebounds along with Rosebush who added 12 points. Suffolk put a great deal of effort into this game but it was not enough against a big Endicott team.

Anna Maria College handed the Lady Rams their third straight loss, 59-33. Maria Gnerre turned in a strong performance with 13 points against Anna Maria.

Suffolk got their first taste of victory with a win over Wentworth Institute of Technology, 41-27. Maureen Brown led the team on their way to their first win with 12 points, while McGourty grabbed 19 rebounds and Gnerre took down 11. It was a great team effort.

The Lady Rams are a young team with a small number of girls, but they seem to have a promising future.

MEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL 1990-1991

Day	Date	Opponent	Time	H/A
SAT.	NOV. 24	FRAMINGHAM STATE COLLEGE	2:00 PM	H
TUE.	NOV. 27	BRIDGEWATER STATE COLLEGE	7:30 PM	A
THUR.	NOV. 29	SOUTHEASTERN MASS. UNIV.	8:00 PM	A
SAT.	DEC. 1	COLBY COLLEGE	3:00 PM	H
MON.	DEC. 3	CURRY COLLEGE	8:00 PM	H
FRI.	DEC. 7	SALVE REGINA COLLEGE	8:00 PM	H
SAT.	JAN. 12	EASTERN NAZARENE COLLEGE	7:30 PM	H
MON.	JAN. 14	WORCESTER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE	7:30 PM	A
THUR.	JAN. 17	BATES COLLEGE	7:30 PM	A
SAT.	JAN. 19	WENTWORTH INSTITUTE	8:00 PM	H
TUE.	JAN. 22	BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY	7:30 PM	A
THUR.	JAN. 24	FITCHBURG STATE COLLEGE	8:00 PM	H
TUE.	JAN. 29	SOUTHERN MAINE UNIVERSITY	8:00 PM	H
THUR.	JAN. 31	BABSON COLLEGE	8:00 PM	H
SAT.	FEB. 2	TUFTS UNIVERSITY	7:30 PM	A
TUE.	FEB. 5	UNIVERSITY OF MASS/BOSTON	8:00 PM	H
SAT.	FEB. 9	MASS. INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY	7:30 PM	H
MON.	FEB. 11	CLARK UNIVERSITY	8:00 PM	H
WED.	FEB. 13	PLYMOUTH STATE COLLEGE	8:00 PM	H
FRI.	FEB. 15	CARNEGIE MELLON UNIVERSITY	8:00 PM	H
SAT.	FEB. 16	COLBY SAWYER COLLEGE	3:00 PM	H
TUE.	FEB. 19	WHEATON COLLEGE	7:30 PM	A
SAT.	FEB. 23	NICHOLS COLLEGE	2:00 PM	A

Head Coach: James E. Nelson

Co-Captains: Justin Culhane, Chris Delillo

Manager: Charles Melanson

Men's cagers split opening four

In men's hoop action the Rams opened their season at the Babson Invitational Tournament where they came out, 1-1. In their first game Suffolk came up just short against Gordon College, 68-72. John Cawley led the way for the Rams with 25 points followed by Chuck Byrne who grabbed 10 rebounds and chipped in 15 points. The next day Suffolk came back and defeated Wentworth, 100-96.

The Rams held on to their five-point lead at the half and battled all the way into overtime to earn the win. Once again, Cawley and Byrne led the scoring while Scott Marino and Dave MacDougall both turned in strong performances in the Nov. 17 game.

Suffolk improved its record to 2-1 with a win over University of New England on the Rams' home court. Cawley paved the way with 25 points and MacDougall threw in 19 points and led the rebounding for the Rams. Suffolk led at the half and held on to win 91-84.

Cawley's 25 points on Nov. 24 was not enough to top beat Framingham State, however. Framingham prevailed 90-83 and dropped the Rams to 2-2 for the season.

Season's Greetings
from the staff of
The Suffolk Journal

Best of Luck on Final Exams!