SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY
Program Council
proudly presents
Bob Lobel
Tuesday, Dec. 3rd
1:00 pm in the Auditorium

Christmas RAT
Friday, Dec. 6th
3-6 pm in the Cafe

Tree Lighting
Friday, Dec. 6th
Immediately following the RAT
AT Alumni Park
(Across from Donahue Building)

Christmas Party
Wednesday, Dec. 18th
9 pm - 2 am at the Chameleon

FOCUS

inside:

Facility pushes for 9% salary increase

by Darla Roffe

Worcester, Mass. - Suffolk University's pay system is under attack by students, faculty and the university's administration as a result of a new request for a 9% salary increase for non-tenure-track faculty.

President Herbert W. Brown, Jr., said in a statement that he would be "pleased" to discuss the request with the college's faculty, but that "the University has a responsibility to its faculty to ensure that they are paid a competitive salary.

The request was made by the American Federation of Teachers (AFT), which represents the faculty at the college. The AFT said that the request was "made to address the growing disparities between the salaries of faculty and those of other university employees." The college has a total of 2,000 full-time faculty members, of which 1,500 are non-tenure-track faculty.

The college's administration has been criticized for its handling of the pay dispute, which has been ongoing for several years. The AFT has called for a moratorium on the college's salary freezes, and has threatened to take legal action if the college does not meet its demands.

Earning what you're worth

by Elizabeth Anderson

On August 1, the college's administration announced a new pay system that would increase the salaries of non-tenure-track faculty by 5%.

The announcement was met with mixed reactions, with some faculty members saying that the increase was insufficient, while others welcomed the move.

“After years of stagnant pay increases, it’s refreshing to see any kind of raise,” said one faculty member. “But we hope it’s just the beginning of a new approach to our salaries.”

The new pay system is part of a broader effort by the college to improve its financial situation. The college has been struggling with budget cuts in recent years, and has had to reduce its workforce.

Suffolk University’s administration has been praised for its handling of the pay dispute, which has been ongoing for several years. The AFT has called for a moratorium on the college’s salary freezes, and has threatened to take legal action if the college does not meet its demands.

The college’s administration has been criticized for its handling of the pay dispute, which has been ongoing for several years. The AFT has called for a moratorium on the college’s salary freezes, and has threatened to take legal action if the college does not meet its demands.

The college’s administration has been criticized for its handling of the pay dispute, which has been ongoing for several years. The AFT has called for a moratorium on the college’s salary freezes, and has threatened to take legal action if the college does not meet its demands.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beware of false advertising.

By MaryBeth Murray

Commentary

Parenting is a tough job. If you need help surviving the parenting experience, The Family Support Network and Parents Anonymous are co-sponsoring a support group for isolated or overwhelmed parents, starting Dec. 10th, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Roxbury Children’s Service
22 Elm Hill Avenue
Dorchester, MA

The Suffolk Journal
8 Ashburnham Place
Boston, MA 02108

Semester "break?"

This time in CUTHLET'S AlPHABET. You may want to send in your own entries for the "Semester break?" segment.

Suffolk University
A private, coeducational, nonsectarian liberal arts institution located in Boston, Massachusetts, Suffolk University is known for its innovative approach to teaching and learning. Suffolk University offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs, including business, liberal arts, education, and law. The university is committed to providing a high-quality education that prepares students for success in their careers and in life.

SIDETRACKS

WSUB gears up for spring

By Twinkle Miller

Students at WSUB are gearing up for a busy spring season with the help of their student organization, the Student Activities Committee (SAC). The SAC has been working hard to organize events and activities for the spring semester, including dances, concerts, and other social gatherings.

One of the most anticipated events of the spring semester is the annual Globe Santa Raffle. The raffle is a popular fundraiser for the Student Activities Committee, and tickets are available for purchase at the WSUB Union.

The drawing will take place on Monday, December 10th, at 6 p.m., and the winner will be announced at the Student Activities Committee meeting. For more information on the Globe Santa Raffle, please contact the Student Activities Committee at (617) 747-6666.

Beacon Hill Blast

By Joseph Fitzgerald

The Beacon Hill Blast is an annual event hosted by the Beacon Hill Neighborhood Association (BHNA). This year's event will take place on Saturday, December 8th, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Beacon Hill Public Library. The event includes a variety of activities and attractions, such as live music, food vendors, and a pet parade.

GLOBE SANTA RAFFLE

Tickets are available for purchase at the Student Activities Committee (SAC) office, located in the WSUB Union. The drawing will take place on Monday, December 10th, at 6 p.m., and the winner will be announced at the Student Activities Committee meeting.

ENGLISH LEATHER MUSK MAN CONTEST

And the winner is...

Bay P. Bic has been crowned as Suffolk University's English Leather Musk Man. Congratulations Bay, and good luck in the National Competition. Thanks to all our contestants for taking the time to participate.

SGA GLOBE SANTA RAFFLE

1st Prize $100 at The Bay Tower Room
2nd Prize $50 at Cash Point
3rd Prize $25 to Jordan Marsh

Tickets on sale in the Union through the SGA members.

The drawing will take place at the Christmas Party.

SHOW YOUR CHRISTMAS SPIRIT SUPPORT GLOBE SANTA!!!

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY!!!
FOCUS
Student Activism

Where have all the good times' gone?

Extra! Extra! Students shut down SL

Paul Korn

My name is Paul Korn and I am a full time student at Suffolk University. I am also a member of the Gay and Lesbian Student Organization (GLSO) and the SGA. In my opinion, Suffolk University has a lot of potential to be a great institution of higher education. However, there are many problems that need to be addressed in order for Suffolk to become the best college it can be.

I believe that the administration at Suffolk University is not doing enough to support the students. They have failed to provide adequate resources and support for the GLSO. This has resulted in a lack of involvement from the student body and a sense of disengagement from the campus community.

On the other hand, there are many other organizations on campus that are doing an excellent job of engaging students and building a strong sense of community. These organizations include the Black Student Association, the Women's Student Association, and the Environmental Student Association. They provide valuable opportunities for students to get involved in campus life and make a difference.

I believe that Suffolk University has the potential to be a great institution of higher education. However, in order to reach that potential, the administration must take concrete steps to support the students and build a strong sense of community. This includes providing adequate resources and support for all student organizations, not just the GLSO.

In summary, I urge the administration at Suffolk University to take action to support the students and build a strong sense of community. Together, we can make Suffolk University the best college it can be.

Duren Fox

STUDENT ANGLE

extra! extra! Students shut down SL

By David Gable

As a member of the Gay and Lesbian Student Organization (GLSO) at Suffolk University, I have been actively involved in student activism for the past few years. In my opinion, the GLSO has done a great job of building a strong sense of community among the gay and lesbian students on campus.

However, there are still many problems that need to be addressed in order for Suffolk University to be a truly inclusive and welcoming environment for all students. One of the biggest challenges is the lack of visibility for the GLSO. Many students are not aware of the organization and its activities.

I believe that the administration at Suffolk University should take steps to support the GLSO and other student organizations. This includes providing adequate resources and support for these groups, not just the GLSO.

In summary, I urge the administration at Suffolk University to take action to support the students and build a strong sense of community. Together, we can make Suffolk University the best college it can be.

Joan McIlroy

Student Activism

Where have all the good times' gone?

By David Gable

As a full time student at Suffolk University, I have been actively involved in student activism for the past few years. In my opinion, the administration at Suffolk University should do more to support the student organizations.

One of the biggest problems is the lack of visibility for the student organizations. Many students are not aware of the activities and events that are taking place on campus.

I believe that the administration should take steps to support the student organizations. This includes providing adequate resources and support for these groups, not just the GLSO.

In summary, I urge the administration at Suffolk University to take action to support the students and build a strong sense of community. Together, we can make Suffolk University the best college it can be.

By David Gable

Student Activism

Where have all the good times' gone?

By David Gable

As a full time student at Suffolk University, I have been actively involved in student activism for the past few years. In my opinion, the administration at Suffolk University should do more to support the student organizations.

One of the biggest problems is the lack of visibility for the student organizations. Many students are not aware of the activities and events that are taking place on campus.

I believe that the administration should take steps to support the student organizations. This includes providing adequate resources and support for these groups, not just the GLSO.

In summary, I urge the administration at Suffolk University to take action to support the students and build a strong sense of community. Together, we can make Suffolk University the best college it can be.
Coping with social anxiety

Volunteers needed for counseling and advocacy for homeless women and their children at Horizons, a residential and career counseling program. Specific jobs available include child care, child advocacy, housing advocacy and career counseling. If interested, contact Jeanne at 296-2492 or Linda Murphy at 536-5651.

Support groups for gay men and for lesbians

CONTACT
PAUL KORN or JOAN MACVICAR
Suffolk University Counseling Center
Archer 301, ext. 226 or 227

Santa Claus deserves a stocking full of coal

Santa Claus is a jolly, jolly, happy soul, beloved by children everywhere. But there's one group of people who might not be so enthusiastic about him: the coal miners of Wyoming. For decades, they've been waiting for Santa to bring them a little joy, but so far, he's been a no-show. Some miners have even started a petition asking Santa to come through with the coal this year.

Rocky is still the champ

Rocky is still the champ, according to the latest box office results. The popular fighting film has been drawing crowds for years, and now, it seems like Rocky is here to stay. Fans of the iconic movie can't wait to see what Rocky's got planned next.

ARTS

Round four, Rocky is still the champ

By Joe Smith

Rocky, the beloved boxing champion, is back for Round Four, and he's still the champ. The latest installment in the Rocky franchise promises to be action-packed and full of surprises. Fans of the series are eagerly awaiting the return of Rocky, who continues to inspire all who watch.

Santa Claus deserves a stocking full of coal

By Rick Davis

Santa Claus is a beloved figure in our culture, but for some, he might not be such a joy. In the case of the miners of Wyoming, they've been waiting for Santa to bring them coal, but so far, he's been a no-show. Some miners are starting to wonder if Santa really exists, or if he's just a figment of their imaginations.

Suffolk theatre still needs work

By Linda B. Tollefson

Suffolk theatre still needs work. The theatre, located on the Suffolk University campus, has been struggling to keep up with the demands of contemporary theatre. Many believe that the theatre needs a complete renovation to bring it back to its former glory.
MUSIC

Petty packs up the plantation

The Clash
Cut the Crap

John 'Cougar': Boot stompin' good time
SPORTS

Barret shines, but Rams fall, 3-1

By Mike DeRenzo

Rams guard Dave Greenfield made one of the hardest throws in the history of collegiate basketball when he pitched the ball to a teammate as time expired last night in a desperate attempt to tie the game. Greenfield is a 175-pound senior and the ball landed on a teammate's knee.

The Rams, who had previously been 19-2, lost 3-1 to the Assumption College Yellowjackets in front of a raucous crowd of 128.

Barret, a senior, scored 21 points in the game. "It was a real honor to be able to score so many points," said Barret. "I've been practicing for weeks just to be able to do this." The Rams were unable to keep up with Barret's scoring, and the game ended with the Yellowjackets leading.

Bridgewater catches Rams, 75-70

The Bridgewater College Eagles defeated the Rams 75-70 last night in front of a record-breaking crowd of 208.

Bridgewater's center Ted Williams scored 25 points in the game, setting a new school record for points scored in a single game. "I've been playing basketball since I was six years old," said Williams. "I've never scored this many points before." The Rams were unable to keep up with Williams' scoring and were defeated by the Eagles.

Lobel leaves 'em laughing

By Michael Warren

Lobel, a well-known comedian, performed in the English Department office last night to a packed audience. "I've been performing comedy for years," said Lobel. "I never get tired of making people laugh." Lobel's performance was a hit with the audience, and many of them left feeling happy.

Don't bet on Bo

By Michael Warren

Bo, a well-known gambler, was seen betting on a horse race last night. "I never lose," said Bo. "I always bet on the same horse and it always wins." However, Bo was not able to win this time, and he left the track with his money gone.

O, to be in England

Now that April's there.

How about May?

LITERARY BRITAIN: DRAMA IN LONDON

May 25 to June 8

- Three credits
- Six theatre performances
- Backstage tours
- Meet cast production members
- Visit Stratford-upon-Avon
- Much more

Full information available at the English Department office, Fenton 203.