Palestinian speaks on the Middle East
by Rich Groush
The recent renewal of the war in the Middle East which erupted in Lebanon in late 1984 is but the latest in a series of escalating conflicts against the Arab world. The Arab world, in an effort to combat the seemingly endless war, has looked to the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) for leadership. The PLO is a loosely organized group of Palestinian nationalist and religious organizations with varying political orientations. The PLO is not a government, however, and its constitution was never signed into law. Israel has agreed to a number of initiatives presented to it by the PLO, but so far has rejected any of its proposals for a lasting solution to the problem.

Palestinians have come to adopt a variety of tactics against the Israeli government, and their constitution was never signed into law. Israel has agreed to a number of initiatives presented to it by the PLO, but so far has rejected any of its proposals for a lasting solution to the problem.

PROPOSED BUDGET CUTS WOULD SLASH FUNDS FOR NECESSARY PAYMENTS TO STUDENT LOANS AND VACATIONS

Students fear that proposed budget cuts could lead to a decrease in necessary payments for student loans and vacations. The cuts could potentially affect the financial stability of students, who rely on these funds to cover their expenses and take breaks from their studies.

AUDIT SHOWS MUD SCHOOL LOANS PAY FOR CARE AND FAMILIAL NEEDS

A recent audit revealed that MUD school loans are being used for various purposes, including care for family members and personal needs. The findings suggest that the loans are not being used solely for educational purposes, which may raise concerns about the effectiveness of the loan program.

LOUISIANA LAW AND MED SCHOOL APPLICATIONS DROP

The number of applications for medical school programs in Louisiana has dropped, according to recent data. This trend could be due to various factors, including changes in the application process and economic conditions. Students and educators are concerned about the implications of this decline on the availability of medical education opportunities in the state.

Exercise is the key to permanent weight loss

By Joseph Mastronardi

You've tried diets, you've tried exercise, but you still can't lose weight. You've tried everything, but the weight just keeps coming back. It's time to try something new - exercise.

In a recent study, researchers found that people who exercise regularly are more likely to lose weight and keep it off. The study showed that those who exercised for 30 minutes, five days a week, lost an average of 10 pounds over the course of a year. And the best part? They kept the weight off.

But why does exercise work? When you exercise, your body burns more calories. This means that you're using up more energy, which can help you lose weight. Plus, exercise helps to increase your metabolic rate, which means that your body burns more calories even when you're not exercising.

So, the next time you're feeling down about your weight, remember that exercise is the key to permanent weight loss. Start small, with a 10-minute walk each day, and逐渐地 increase your activity levels. With time and dedication, you'll see the results you've been waiting for.

Body building is for men and women

By Linda Tedesco

You've heard about the benefits of exercise, but you're not sure where to start. Body building is a great option for men and women alike.

Male body builders tend to focus on building muscle, while female body builders work on building strength and tone. Either way, body building can help you feel stronger and more confident.

But what about the benefits of body building? Well, for starters, it can help you lose weight. When you lift weights, you're using up more calories than you would if you were just sitting around. Plus, body building can help to increase your metabolic rate, which means that your body burns more calories even when you're not exercising.

So, if you're looking for a way to get in shape, consider body building. It's a fun and effective way to lose weight and build muscle. And the best part? You can do it at home, without the need for a gym membership.

Countdown to graduation...

By Sandra Wilson

You've been working hard for years, and now it's almost time to graduate. Whether you're a senior or a junior, it's time to start preparing for life after high school.

First things first, you need to start thinking about your future. Do you want to go to college? Do you want to join the workforce? Whatever your plans are, it's important to start thinking about them now. Take some time to explore your options and figure out what's best for you.

Next, it's time to start preparing for graduation. That means planning a celebratory event for your friends and family. You'll want to make sure that you have everything you need, from decorations to refreshments. And don't forget to invite all of your classmates - it's going to be a night to remember.

Finally, it's time to start thinking about your future. Whether you're planning on going to college or joining the workforce, it's important to start preparing now. Take some time to start researching your options and figure out what's best for you.

So, start preparing for graduation now. It's time to start thinking about your future and making sure that you're ready for whatever comes next.

HOLOCABST DAY COMMEMORATED AT SUFFOLK

by Linda Traverso

HOLYDAY IS A day dedicated to the survivors of the Holocaust. It is also a day to remember the millions of Jews and other victims who perished in the concentration camps during World War II.

The Suffolk Journal included a picture of the famous photograph of the liberation of the Nazi death camp, Auschwitz-Birkenau, by American soldiers on January 27, 1945, which showed the liberation of the last transport of Jews from the camp.

The group, which consisted of students, faculty, and staff, gathered in the Student Union to hear speeches and to view a slide show of photographs from the concentration camps.

The lecture was given by Dr. John B. Hedges, chairman of the Suffolk University Department of History, who spoke about the role of the concentration camps in World War II.

The audience was then shown a slide show of photographs from the concentration camps, including pictures of the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau.

The lecture was followed by a question-and-answer session, during which the audience was able to ask questions about the Holocaust and the concentration camps.

The event ended with a moment of silence in memory of the millions of lives lost during the Holocaust.
